Dear Speaker Ralston:

I have vetoed House Bills 670, 729, 769, 837, 858, 905, 906, and 1146 which passed the General Assembly during the 2014 Regular Session.

Article III, Section V, Paragraph XIII of the Georgia Constitution requires that I transmit these bills to you together with the reasons for such vetoes. These bills and corresponding reasons for the vetoes are attached.

Sincerely,

Veto Number 1

SB 281 Senate Bill 281 would require that the State of Georgia offer a specific type of health insurance product in the state health insurance plan. The Department of Community Health has announced the plan to procure additional product offerings for the state health insurance plan which closely mirrors the general intent of this legislation. I agree with the author of this legislation that the state health insurance plan should include additional options, particularly options that are consumer-driven. However, to avoid any problem with the new product offerings not specifically conforming to the rather specific requirements set out in this legislation, out of an abundance of caution, I hereby VETO Senate Bill 281.

Veto Number 2

SB 326 The original as filed Senate Bill 326 was amended with language providing additional daily expense allowance for the members of the State Personnel Board, the State Transportation Board, the Veterans Service Board, the Board of Natural Resources, and the State Board of Education. Current law sets the daily expense allowance for members at $105. This bill increases the board members' daily expense allowance by sixty-seven percent. Given the lack of justification provided for such increases in the board members' daily expense allowance, I hereby VETO Senate Bill 326.

Veto Number 3

HB 670 Currently, business trade names are housed and accessed in the Superior Courts of our State. This bill would create a statewide registry of business trade names to be housed and maintained by the Georgia Superior Court Clerks' Cooperative Authority. Several provisions of this legislation are concerning. This legislation would effectively increase taxes on small businesses by raising trade name registration fees and would add new fees for cancelling or reregistering existing trade names. I also have significant concerns about the language in the bill which attempts to dedicate these fees for a specific purpose. For these reasons, I VETO HB 670.

Veto Number 4

HB 729 Georgia's existing Title Ad Valorem Tax law ("TAVT"), enacted March 1, 2013, eliminated the "birthday tax" and substituted it with a one-time payment upon the transfer of the vehicle title. I support the main effort of this bill, which sought to ensure there was no gaming of the vehicle trade-in valuations during the purchase and trade-in of a used car. However, the inclusion of the language regarding a lease finance company being eligible for a trade-in reduction at the end of a leased term significantly changes the trade-in definition. Current law states that local governments must receive a base amount and the first recalibration of the disbursements is January 1, 2016. The first recalibration of the state target collection is July 1, 2015, which will determine if the tax rate requires a change. The negative effects of the lease provision on the state and local collections would be addressed in both recalibrations. I am vetoing this legislation because I believe it is too soon to implement a law that adversely affects revenue, thus, leaving the State of Georgia TAVT taxpayers in a more unstable position as the split between the state and local governments share of this revenue. Accordingly, I VETO HB 729.

Veto Number 5

HB 769 House Bill 769 changes the description of education districts in Schley County. The author of House Bill 769 requested that House Bill 769 be vetoed because qualifying has already occurred under the existing districts. If the districts were to change after qualifying, it would incur a large cost on the Board of Education and on the taxpayers. Having reviewed the legislation and considered the request of the author of this legislation, I VETO HB 769.

Veto Number 6

HB 837 House Bill 837 provides updates and certain expansions to the role of private companies in the administration of probation services in Georgia. There is language in this legislation that would exempt certain key information about private probation services from the Georgia Open Records Act. I favor more transparency over private probation services and therefore I am not in favor of this information being exempt from the Georgia Open Records Act. In addition, it is my understanding that the Supreme Court of Georgia has under its consideration an appeal that would address the role of private probation services and, while the current law pertaining to private probation services remains in effect, this legislation seeks to have a preemptive impact on any decision in that appeal. With these considerations in mind, I VETO House Bill 837.

Veto Number 7

HB 858 House Bill 858 authorizes the Recorder's Court of Columbus to levy up to a twenty-five dollar technology fee to each fine imposed. In 2013, I signed legislation authorizing the Recorder's Court of Columbus to levy up to a fifteen dollar technology fee. A twenty-five dollar fee is excessive compared to similar court fees across the state and I am concerned that such a fee increase would set an unacceptable precedent for other similar courts. For this reason, I VETO HB 858.

Veto Number 8 and 9

HB 905 and HB 906 House Bills 905 and 906 are bills that update the territorial boundaries for the City of Brookhaven and the City of Chamblee. Currently, there is pending litigation involving the property at issue in this legislation and this legislation could preempt that process. For this reason, I VETO HB 905 and HB 906.

Veto Number 10

HB 1146 House Bill 1146 would allow state funds appropriated to the Effingham County Board of Education to be used for the compensation of board members. Current state law and current rules of the State Board of Education dictate that compensation of local board members be through local tax revenues. Past local legislation affecting school board compensation does not include language which name state appropriations as an appropriate fund source. Because state appropriations are not an appropriate source for local board of education compensation funding, I hereby VETO House Bill 1146.

Dear Gentlemen:

Please be advised that I have identified language to disregard for the following sections in House Bill 744:

Non-Binding Information Language to Disregard:

Section 15, pertaining to the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities, page 20, line 586;

Section 17, pertaining to the Department of Community Health, page 30, line 885; and

Section 27, pertaining to the Department of Human Services, page 69, line 2158.

/s/ Nathan Deal

HB 744–FY 2015 Appropriations BillIntent Language Considered Non-BindingSection 15, pertaining to the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities, page 20, Line 586:

The General Assembly seeks to direct the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding with the Georgia Vocational Rehabilitation Agency in order to receive additional federal funding for supported employment services. The General Assembly further directs that the Georgia Vocational Rehabilitation Agency direct $1,000,000 of the additional federal funding to the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities. Page 23, Line 675 of HB 744 also directs the Department to provide an actionable plan to the General Assembly to create third party cooperative arrangements between the Department, University System of Georgia, Technical College System of Georgia, and Georgia Student Finance Commission to maximize financial assistance for vocational rehabilitation clients. It is premature to redirect resources between agencies prior to the creation of an actionable plan detailing how best to maximize available financial assistance for vocational rehabilitation services. Therefore, the Department is authorized to determine the most efficient use of available resources to maximize services for vocational rehabilitation clients in accordance with federal regulations and the general law powers of the Department.

Section 17, pertaining to the Department of Community Health, page 30, line 885:

The General Assembly seeks to instruct the Department to provide emergency transportation for medically indigent citizens 21 years of age and older by rotary wing air ambulance at the same reimbursement rates as citizens under the age of 21 through the Departmental Administration and Program Support program. The purpose of the Departmental Administration and Program Support program is to provide administrative support to all departmental programs. Review and reimbursement of health care claims to providers for medical services falls outside the scope of the purpose of the Departmental Administration program. Additionally, no funds were appropriated to the program to support implementation of the policy. The Departmental Administration and Program Support program does not have sufficient internal resources to redirect funds to implement this policy. Therefore, the Department is authorized to operate the program in accordance with the purpose of the program and the general law powers of the Department.

Section 27, pertaining to the Department of Human Services, page 69, line 2158:

The General Assembly seeks to direct the Georgia Vocational Rehabilitation Agency to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities in order to receive additional federal funding for supported employment services. The General Assembly further directs that the Georgia Vocational Rehabilitation Agency direct $1,000,000 of the additional federal funding to the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities. Page 68, Line 2121 of HB 744 also instructs the Agency to provide an actionable plan to the General Assembly to create third party cooperative arrangements with the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities, University System of Georgia, Technical College System of Georgia, and Georgia Student Finance Commission to maximize financial assistance for vocational rehabilitation clients. It is premature to redirect resources between agencies prior to the creation of an actionable plan detailing how best to maximize available financial assistance for vocational rehabilitation services. Therefore, the Agency is authorized to determine the most efficient use of available resources to maximize services for vocational rehabilitation clients in accordance with federal regulations and the general law powers of the Agency.

State Auditor's Report (Revised)
Concurrent Funding of Fiscal Retirement Bills
Enacted During the 2014 Legislative Session

The Honorable Brian P. Kemp
Secretary of State
214 State Capitol
Atlanta, Georgia 30334

Dear Mr. Kemp:

As required by Section 47-20-50.1 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, the following report is submitted for printing in the annual session laws of the State of Georgia. This report covers all fiscal retirement bills that had actuarial evaluations and were enacted during the 2014 legislative session. The report indicates whether or not provision has been made for the concurrent funding of the bill in accordance with the applicable requirements of Code Section 47-20-50.

Any fiscal retirement bill that is enacted by the General Assembly and is approved by the Governor or otherwise becomes law shall become effective on the first day of July immediately following the regular session during which it was enacted, but only if the enacted bill is concurrently funded as provided by Code Section 47-20-50. If an enacted bill, including one approved by the Governor, is not concurrently funded as required, then that bill may not become effective as law and shall be null, void, and of no force and effect and shall stand repealed in its entirety on the first day of July immediately following its enactment.

Following the close of each regular legislative session during which fiscal retirement bills may be enacted, the State Auditor is required to determine whether or not provision has been made for concurrent funding of each bill enacted which is not vetoed by the Governor. This determination is based upon the cost of the bill as reported to the General Assembly during the legislative session. This report complies with this requirement. As noted in the schedule on the following page, provisions have been made to concurrently fund the seven fiscal retirement bills approved by the Governor.

Respectfully,

/s/ Greg S. Griffin
State Auditor

Dear Governor:

As we discussed earlier today, one of my law associates represents Phoenix Development Land Investors which has a law suit pending against the Board of Regents, asserting that the University of Georgia wrongly built an inert landfill on its property. Yesterday the trial judge instructed the parties to mediate the case within the next 30 days. Although I am not counsel of record on behalf of the plaintiff and have not participated in the legal proceedings to date, I am concerned that due to my firm's involvement there could be an appearance of impropriety for me to continue serving as Chairman of the Senate Higher Education Committee. My concern is that members of the public might wrongly assume that my position could be used as leverage to obtain a favorable settlement on behalf of the plaintiff. On the other hand, if the case is not settled at mediation it will likely be a highly publicized trial in late summer or early fall of this year. Either way, I feel like it is in the best interest of the State Senate that there be no potential appearance of impropriety.

Under the circumstances, I feel that it is best for me to resign as Chairman of the Senate Higher Education Committee immediately. This will guarantee that the Board of Regents will have no concerns that I might use, or attempt to use, my influence as Chairman to, in any way, pressure them to reach a settlement in this case.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve as the Chairman of this very interesting committee that is of such importance to my district. I look forward to working in whatever capacity you feel I can best serve the Senate in the future.

Sincerely,

The President announced the motion prevailed at 11:40 a.m.

The hour for convening the Joint Session of the Senate and House having arrived, the President, accompanied by the Secretary and Senators, proceeded to the Hall of the House of Representatives, and the Joint Session, called for the purpose of hearing the inaugural address by His Excellency Governor Nathan Deal, was called to order by the Speaker of the House. HR 9 authorizing the Joint Session of the Senate and House was read by the Clerk of the House.

His Excellency, Governor Nathan Deal, addressed the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives as follows:

Lt. Governor Cagle, Speaker Ralston, President Pro Tem Shafer, Speaker Pro Tem Jones, members of the General Assembly, constitutional officers, members of the consular corps, members of the judiciary, my fellow Georgians:

Today, we stand under the watchful eye of History. In a nation founded by pilgrims seeking new religious freedoms, in a state formed by an English nobleman looking to give debtors and religious refugees from the Old World a fresh start, in a city symbolized by the phoenix rising from the ashes of a civil war, and across from a new plaza where Georgians of today and tomorrow can exercise their rights to speak freely, to petition and to assemble, the hundreds of you here today represent the 10 million people across Georgia as we inaugurate a new term, a new vision, a new mandate to address the needs of our citizens.

This is an occasion not to honor me or those who come after me, but rather to celebrate the will of the people of Georgia. Inaugurations of elected officials pay homage to our democracy – to the belief that all citizens have a say in who governs them.

While we planned to have this ceremony in our new forum, Liberty Plaza-which pays tribute to our freedoms, those rights endowed by God, enshrined in our Constitution and defended by free men and women-Mother Nature had a different idea, as she did four years ago. However, if this term produces results on a magnitude of those of my first term, I gladly gather with all of you inside this beautiful Chamber.

In that plaza, which we will dedicate this Friday afternoon, we prominently display symbols of our freedoms: the Statue of Liberty and Georgia's Liberty Bell. Soon, on Capitol grounds, we'll add a statue of Georgia's native son, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who helped fulfill America's promise of freedom and equality for all. He serves as a symbol for those ideals, but history recognizes him as a man of action. Within our new plaza, the symbols of freedom will welcome the exercise of freedom. There, Georgians will engage in the marketplace of ideas. There, they will advocate or oppose government actions. There, they will assemble to express their thoughts and opinions, openly and without fear.

What we do as elected officials under this iconic gold dome directly affects the lives of all Georgians, and our duty is to seek policies that will allow every citizen to realize their full potential so that liberty and freedom will have real meaning in their lives. As we celebrate this new beginning today, we reflect on how forward-looking leadership creates powerful new beginnings in the individual lives of Georgians.

Those who have never lost their freedom can easily take it for granted. Perhaps, therefore, liberty may hold some deeper meaning for those who have lost it and are now seeking to regain it. In Georgia, we have taken monumental steps in recent years to give nonviolent offenders a new beginning. As a result, our alternative courts are paying dividends for offenders, their families and taxpayers. We have indeed found a smarter way to address the cases of nonviolent offenders whose underlying issues are addiction or mental illness. Instead of burdening taxpayers with the cost of a prison sentence, instead of branding the offender with the stigma of incarceration, these individuals are getting the treatment they need; they are keeping jobs; and they are keeping families together.

At the beginning of the current fiscal year, there were roughly 4,700 active participants in our accountability courts seeking a second chance. For those individuals and their families, these new beginnings are restoring hope.

The greatest affirmation of the success of these reforms comes from Georgians who tell Sandra and me their personal stories of how accountability courts have given them a second chance to break their addictions and reclaim their lives. These stories come from people we meet in shops, restaurants and the working world of Georgia. Several days ago I stopped at a small sandwich shop. The lady who took my order recognized me and immediately told me her story of how she had graduated from a local drug court. She repeated the refrain that is universal in these encounters: "Drug court saved my life." She told me she was the mother of five children and that without that second chance she would not be able to work and support her family. Our reforms are working.

For those who are already in our prison system, many of them now have the chance for a new beginning too. Approximately 70 percent of Georgia's inmates don't have a high school diploma. If their lack of an education is not addressed during their incarceration, when they re-enter society they have a felony on their record but no job skills on their résumé. I am here to tell you, an ex-con with no hope of gainful employment is a danger to us all. This is why we must work to get these individuals into a job. Our prisons have always been schools. In the past, the inmates have learned how to become better criminals. Now they are taking steps to earn diplomas and gain job skills that will lead to employment after they serve their sentences.

Augusta is home to a fine example of what an opportunity at a new life can mean for an individual who has exited our prison system. A former inmate by the name of Sean has proven that a helping hand, a pleasant demeanor and persistence in the face of adversity go a long way in shaping a person's future. While he was in a state transitional center, Sean worked at the Governor's Mansion. Over time, Sandra and I grew to know him. He has since been paroled, and I am proud to tell you, he currently works for Goodwill. He has received a promotion for his strong performance, been nominated for Goodwill International Employee of the Year and now serves as Banquet Catering Sales Coordinator employing skills he developed at the Mansion. He will soon begin taking classes in a college program, where he intends to earn a degree and become a counselor. I am pleased that Sean is with us today.

While it is important that our criminal justice system punish those who have harmed the lives and property of our citizens, it should also seek to change the direction of their lives so that they will not repeat their criminal conduct upon release. Punishment for bad conduct coupled with fundamental changes that lead to good conduct are the ingredients that result in True Justice.

While Sean's story began before our Criminal Justice Reforms were passed, his conduct and that of many others who were seeking a better life upon their release, gave me confidence that we could find a successful pathway if we had the courage to do so. Our message to those in our prison system and to their families is this: If you pay your dues to society, if you take advantage of the opportunities to better yourself, if you discipline yourself so that you can regain your freedom and live by the rules of society, you will be given the chance to reclaim your life. I intend for Georgia to continue leading the nation with meaningful justice reform.

Most of us who grew up in Georgia were blessed with a great public education, and most of you had the same opportunity I had, made possible by those teachers and administrators who invested in us. I am honored today to have my high school English teacher, Mrs. Shirley Friedman, as well as several of my classmates from Washington County High School, joining us on this occasion.

Education is often at the heart of new beginnings. With the blessing of Georgia's voters, in our first term we created a Charter School Commission to make sure concerned parents and communities would have alternatives from which to choose if their children were trapped in failing schools.

That was certainly the case for the parents and children at Clayton County's Utopian Academy for the Arts, whose students put on an amazing and inspiring performance for us earlier. These students are blessed to have parents willing to fight for them and a visionary principal, Artesius Miller, who overcame many obstacles to open the school.

Theirs is a story of determination, conviction and passion, and the children who sang for us today are the beneficiaries. You can see that hard work and discipline are paying off in their lives.

Without the charter school amendment, many of these children would still be sitting in schools that are underperforming. But because Georgia did the right thing, they will have a brighter future. In several years, many of them will be the first in their families to attend college. These are exciting new beginnings, and we will work in this term to plant more of these opportunities.

As governor, my top priority has been creating new jobs, so that those who take the time to acquire education and workforce skills will then be able to support themselves and their families. This task has been particularly difficult as our state has been recovering from the Great Recession. And yet, we've created more than 319,000 new jobs in the private sector in the past four years. Just six days ago we announced that Mercedes-Benz USA is establishing its North American headquarters here, creating hundreds of new high-paying jobs.

Let us not lose the significance in the statistic. Behind each one of those job numbers is a personal story. Every so often, I get to hear some of those stories myself. Let me read you a piece of a letter I received this past fall from a young girl in metro Atlanta:

"I'm 11 years old and live in DeKalb County, go to Peachtree Charter Middle School and love it here in Georgia. By the way thank you for becoming governor because those thousands of jobs you gave Georgia was one of my moms."

The girl who wrote me that letter is here today with her mother and twin sister. Angelique, will you and your family please stand and be recognized. I want you to know that we will continue to create jobs over the next four years for others like your mom.

These are the stories of new beginnings for Georgians seeking to recapture their lives, for Georgians seeking to learn and achieve, for Georgians seeking to earn a living. These stories are what have inspired me for the past four years and what excite me about this second term. They are why I'm honored that the citizens of this state have affirmed their faith in the positive direction we're going by giving me this opportunity to serve once again.

These next four years are about building upon the foundation we have laid. While we have accomplished much, we have much left to do. That work is a new beginning. It begins today.

May God bless you and may God continue to bless the great state of Georgia.

The President of the Senate asked the Doorkeepers to escort the Governor and distinguished guests from the Chamber.

The motion prevailed, and the President of the Senate announced the Joint Session dissolved.

Pursuant to the provisions of a previously adopted motion, the Senate stood adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, January 13, 2015.

His Excellency, Governor Nathan Deal, addressed the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives as follows:

Lt. Governor Cagle, Speaker Ralston, President Pro Tem Shafer, Speaker Pro Tem Jones, members of the General Assembly, constitutional officers, members of the judiciary, members of the consular corps, my fellow Georgians:

Today marks the fifth year that I have reported to you, the people's representatives, on the state of our state. This is our annual checkup exam on the body politic, where we measure our vitals, celebrate areas of great health and seek cures for what ails us. In each succeeding year, we've seen the green shoots of our economy grow a little taller. Each year, we've seen more Georgians return to work or get their first job. Each year, we've seen hundreds of more businesses open or relocate here. Each year, steady revenue growth has allowed us to slowly mend the ravages wrought by the Great Recession. Now, our economy is seeing positive growth with thousands of new jobs added every month. We're seeing the tell-tale signs of cranes and bulldozers humming on newly cleared land. We're seeing home values recover and Georgia families rebuild their savings. And Georgia has been named the No. 1 place in the nation in which to do business by several major rating agencies and has repeated that designation by one of them already. In short, I'm here to report to you today that the state of our state is strong, and getting stronger every day.

But for every milestone we reach, for every victory we attain, for every improvement we achieve, new challenges await. Certainly, there are those who focus only on the negative, zeroed in on areas where we should do better. They downplay any progress as "not good enough." To them I say: Celebrating our progress puts our challenges in perspective and reminds us that together we can achieve greatness. Our shortcomings don't go unacknowledged. They're simply what we're going to address next.

When focused only on the negative, the job before us can seem overwhelming. These feelings are not new to our generation. Atop President Kennedy's desk sat a fisherman's prayer: "Oh, God, Thy sea is so great and my boat is so small." When confronting the challenges of 10 million people – challenges that can appear insurmountable – it's easy to feel that the tools we've been given aren't up to the task.

When it comes to our constituents' needs in education, health care, transportation and public safety, the sea seems so great and our boat so small. We may have 10 million challenges, but we also have 10 million oars.

In the turbulent waters of recession and recovery, we have rowed steadily forward. The synchronized beat of unified oars has reset the rhythm of our economy. Georgians have spoken clearly that the conservative principles, which have guided our decisions, the very ones that have brought us out of the recession, must continue to guide our future growth. These include keeping our government small, prioritizing and balancing our budget, and emphasizing a strong business climate.

State government cannot address the legitimate needs of our citizens without adequate revenue. Last year we based our budget on an anticipated revenue growth of 3.4 percent. That was in keeping with our pattern of conservative budgeting. So when fiscal year 2014 ended, our actual revenue was 4.8 percent. That differential between what we spent and what we collected is deposited into our Rainy Day Fund. Every budget cycle since I have been governor we have added to that fund so that it has increased by 643 percent since I took office.

Annual revenue growth, coupled with conservative spending and a growing Rainy Day Fund are positive evidence that Georgia is better today than it was last year.

Since I took office, over 319,000 new private sector jobs have been created in Georgia with nearly 93,000 of those coming in the past twelve months. The announcement last week that Mercedes-Benz USA is moving its North American headquarters to Georgia is further evidence that our state will continue to be a leader in job creation. With job growth comes population growth. Georgia is now the eighth most populous state in the nation, moving from the number 10 position in just four years. People don't move to a state unless it provides them with opportunities. The Mercedes slogan is "the Best or Nothing." The company that accepts nothing but the best chose Georgia... I'll take that. And in the near future, Porsche North America will open their headquarters near the Atlanta airport.

But let's not forget our first major automotive manufacturer in modern times, Kia, which employs some 3,000 Georgians and whose supplier base continues to expand in our state. Kia's example told the world that we have the quality workforce and business environment needed to thrive in the automotive industry. Kia officials remind me often that their West Point Georgia plant produces the highest quality vehicle in their worldwide chain.

Furthermore, home prices are up in the past year and up significantly since 2011, an example of the resurgence of this sector and confidence in the market. Construction, manufacturing and other key Georgia industries continue to rebound. And as Georgians experience growth in their incomes, this leaves more money for the types of things our fellow citizens want to be doing, rather than just the essentials.

Virtually every reliable indicator points to one thing, a growing economy. And to those of you who have been paying attention, you will notice that the unemployment rate, the prodigal son of indicators, is even falling back in line. For those who were too long unemployed or underemployed, for their relatives who watched them struggle to get hired, and for the Georgians who understand that a working economy is an economy in which people work, we are making a difference. The ocean of need is vast, but shrinking, and we will continue to close the distance between where we are and where we wish to be.

Still, need does exist. Over 19,000 students dropped out between grades nine and 12 over the past school year. That is far too many. Neither Georgia nor these young people can afford the disparaging effects that typically result when someone leaves high school prematurely. This is why over the next few years we intend to take a comprehensive look at how we can make K-12 education more accessible and more effective. A child that does not graduate from high school is that much less prepared for the workforce, that much less prepared for college and that much more prepared for a life behind bars.

I am establishing an Education Reform Commission to study a number of questions regarding our education system, such as increasing access to Georgia's world class early learning programs, recruiting and retaining high quality teachers in our classrooms, and expanding school options for Georgia's families. This group, which will be composed of legislators, educators and a variety of other stakeholders, will recommend potential improvements to me by August 1 of this year. I fully anticipate this process to be as successful as the one involving our justice reforms after which it was modeled.

In addition, a subset of this group will examine the most appropriate ways to modernize our QBE funding formula from the 1980s. This model is older than every student in our classrooms and some of their parents. Just as most of us wouldn't dress our children in parachute pants and jelly shoes and we wouldn't teach them about computers on a Commodore 64, neither should we educate them under a 1980s funding formula. Our students are now using iPads and Androids. Why tie them to a desk when technology can take them to the moon and back?

This undertaking will require detailed work. My vision is to create a formula driven by student need that provides local school and district leaders with real control and flexibility. It is our hope that funding changes based on the commission's recommendations will go into effect as early as the 2016-2017 school year.

While we must certainly address the outdated funding formula, education still remains a top priority in our budgets. This year's budget coupled with my proposal for next year's budget represents an infusion of over one billion additional dollars for K-12 education. Working together, we have devoted the largest percentage of the state budget to K-12 education of any governor and General Assembly in the last 50 years. Now, the focus is on turning those dollars into academic progress. I look forward to working with all of you to accomplish that goal.

However, no matter how well we fund education, the fact of the matter is that far too many students are trapped in a failing Georgia school. Roughly 23 percent of schools have received either a D or an F, which constitutes a failing grade, for the past three consecutive years. When the system fails, our children have little chance of succeeding.

New options can enrich lives, brighten futures and rekindle hope. Three years ago, the legislators here called for and the voters of this state overwhelmingly approved the charter school amendment. I have good news: It's making a positive difference. This year, I am asking you to continue the trend of restoring hope and opportunity to areas of our state that could use a helping hand.

I am proposing a constitutional amendment to establish an Opportunity School District. It would authorize the state to step in to help rejuvenate failing public schools and rescue children languishing in them. This model has already been used successfully in other states. My office has been in contact with a student from New Orleans, who tells us he could not read until he was 12. Now, because of the Recovery School District in New Orleans, Troy Simon is going to Bard College in New York, where he intends to earn a degree in American Literature. His life has changed. There is perhaps no sweeter irony – the young man who couldn't read at all may one day teach others to read, and read well.

There are many excuses that will be offered for why schools are failing— the students come from families in poverty, their parents are dysfunctional, they don't care because they have no hope.

Let's stop making excuses— If we want to break the cycle of poverty, let's educate those children so that they have the skills to escape poverty, if we want to interrupt the cycle of dysfunctional families, let's educate the children in those homes so that their families of the future will return to normalcy; if we want our young people to have hope, let's give them the greatest beacon of hope we can confer on them— a quality education that leads to a good job, a stable family and the stairway to the future.

There will be those who will argue that the problem of failing schools can be solved by spending more money. They ignore the fact that many of our failing schools already spend far more money per child than the state average. The problem is not money. More money without fundamental changes in the delivery system will not alter the results; it will only make state and local taxpayers greater enablers of chronic failure.

If we take this step, more students will be able to gain employment or go to college when they graduate, more employers will be satisfied with our state's workforce, and more of their colleagues might just decide to locate in our state. Above all, students and parents will relinquish the burden of having nowhere to go to get a proper education, something no family should have to experience in the first place.

Liberals cannot defend leaving a child trapped in a failing school that sentences them to a life in poverty. Conservatives like me cannot argue that each child in Georgia already has the same opportunity to succeed and compete on his or her own merits. We have a moral duty to help these children who can't help themselves. The sea is great and the boat is small, but the boat must not have first and second class seating.

I am calling on you to do your part this session to get this referendum on the ballot so that Georgians can assure that a child's hopes of success aren't determined by his or her ZIP Code. Our places of learning should be where a child learns triumph, not defeat.

We have experienced triumphs in our criminal justice system, where we have tamed some rough seas. Working with those of you here and others throughout this state, we have enhanced safety and nurtured second chances. We have combined taxpayer savings with personal salvation. In return, our reforms are closing the revolving door that has led too many Georgians back into our prison system. Crime may not pay, but stopping it does.

I have already shared with you just last month and in the Inaugural address the promising results of some of our efforts. My budget this year will reflect our commitment to these important reforms. The next step we are taking to improve our delivery of justice will further make Georgia a leader in this area.

On many occasions, one troubled family or neighborhood will deal with multiple agencies, from Pardons and Parole to DFCS to the Department of Juvenile Justice to the Department of Corrections. Under current policy, these agencies often don't coordinate effectively on these cases. This fails to bring a holistic approach to the needs at hand, and it doesn't deliver services efficiently.

For this reason, I am proposing to create the Department of Community Supervision to eliminate redundancy and enhance communication between these related groups. This new agency will pull from the relevant existing portions of Corrections, Juvenile Justice and Pardons and Paroles. While the Division of Family and Children Services will not contribute to the agency itself, we will be including the Director of DFCS on the Board of Community Supervision to facilitate the transfer of appropriate information.

Recently we have seen tremendous growth in the number of child welfare investigations, due in part to our 24-hour call center. This is why we will continue to fund additional resources to meet this unfortunate need, including support for 278 additional caseworkers.

In addition, the Child Welfare Reform Council, which I created in 2014, has released its review of the Division of Family and Children's Services. To address some of their recommendations, I am proposing in my budget this year that we fund several upgrades. These include beginning a mentor program for supervisors, providing for greater career and salary growth potential, promoting the safety and resources available to caseworkers, and improving the recruitment and training of foster parents. By caring for our caseworkers, we can better care for our children in need. I am happy to say the Council will continue its work in the upcoming year.

One of our most vulnerable populations is our children who are suffering from seizures. Last year, we set in motion trials at our state medical school to test the possibility of using cannabis oil to treat severe seizures of those young people in a safe and nonintoxicating way. Those trials involving Georgia's children have already begun and will continue to expand.

This year I hope to sign legislation to decriminalize cannabis oil in Georgia so that families who need it and who obtain it legally will not be prosecuted for possession of it. Let me be clear, I do not support the legalization of marijuana for recreational purposes. We're focused narrowly on an oil that contains fractional amounts of THC – the chemical in marijuana that intoxicates a user. We want to find a pathway to bring our children home from Colorado without becoming Colorado.

We still face the significant – and more complicated – issue of access. That's why, in addition to decriminalization, I'm proposing a study committee to research a proper role for the state of Georgia in the ongoing debates about the types of medical conditions that can benefit from this product, and how we can best address this in a logical and controlled manner. I know, for many families, time is of the essence. I want us to answer the question of access as quickly as we possibly can while going through the proper steps to ensure safety and compliance with federal laws. There's broad agreement we must do something and that we can do something. Let's also agree that we must do it right.

Even a small boat conquering the sea must dock every once in a while. We must therefore ensure that our network of bridges, roads and other vital infrastructure are well maintained and that the increasing transportation needs of our population are met. So, let me present to you our options.

Since only three regions in the state invested in Plan A, a regional one-percent sales tax for designated infrastructure projects, we acted to implement Plan B, which includes reprioritized funding and a focus on the most essential projects that will target our most congested areas. For example, we are constructing new capacity express lanes along large stretches of I-75 and 575. We are also extending the managed lanes on I-85. Over the next four years, we will open to traffic more than $1.1 billion dollars' worth of new, reliable interstate lanes in Metro Atlanta, the largest interstate expansion since the 1980s.

We are making further progress in the form of our I-285/GA-400 interchange, which will ease congestion for hundreds of thousands of travelers each day. Let us not forget those things we have already accomplished, including the removal of the tolls on GA 400 and the opening of the I-85/GA 400 connector ramps, which many in our state are already using. And of course, we continue to construct the Jimmy Deloach Parkway extension, the Fall Line Freeway and other road improvements connecting South Georgia cities.

At the same time, other important projects lack the funding necessary to proceed. This brings me to our next option. Plan C—a transportation plan to which this General Assembly and I can agree that would address the ongoing needs of maintenance and repair, as well as freight corridor and other transportation improvements. I believe this is something that can and should be accomplished.

A need does exist. The excise tax, which is a per gallon flat fee, has remained the same since 1971. That's 44 years. In that time, the fuel efficiency for the average vehicle has almost doubled, which means the amount of excise tax collected for each mile driven has roughly been cut in half. And the federal government has mandated new standards that would again double the miles per gallon for the average vehicle over the next 10 years, meaning that the amount of excise tax collected for every mile traveled will continue to shrink every year. And that doesn't even account for inflation. In 2014 dollars, we collected approximately 17 percent less in state Motor Fuel Funds per capita for transportation than we did a quarter of a century ago, in part because of greater fuel efficiency. At the same time, we now have millions more people travelling on our roads. According to industry experts, simply maintaining what we currently have on our roadways requires a minimum of hundreds of millions of dollars in new revenue each year. Some industry experts even suggest it's more than $1 billion a year.

Over the years, we have added more highway to monitor, patrol and repair. In addition, our state has seen significantly more freight on our roadways, with more and more goods and raw materials entering through the Port of Savannah. We're already the second busiest container port on the East Coast, and we're getting busier. It's estimated that truck traffic out of the port will increase by 50 percent in less than 10 years. We have to be ready to meet that need.

Without Plan C, a new strategy for transportation investment, we will be forced to go to Plan D, which is to do nothing. If that is our plan, then our roads will slowly slip into disrepair, the safety of our citizens will be jeopardized, and our economy will be stagnated by increased congestion. That is unacceptable.

We are currently operating at a rate that requires over 50 years to resurface every state road in Georgia. If your road is paved when you graduate high school, by the time it is paved again you will be eligible for Social Security. We must increase the percentage of roads being resurfaced annually. With only current funding levels, new capital projects will have to wait as we tend to our existing transportation network. If we do nothing, we would continue to have to depend on the federal government, whose transportation funds are also dwindling. If we should choose not to maintain and improve our infrastructure, economic development would stall, companies would be unable to conduct their business efficiently, commuters would waste more time and gas sitting in traffic, and no one would be satisfied.

For those of you who believe as I do that there are certain powers left to the states and their citizens—a principal set forth in our nation's 10th Amendment—here is one way we can put our belief into practice. If we become less dependent on federal revenue for our transportation projects in Georgia, we will avoid the regulations and extra costs associated with federal involvement; we will get more for our money in new roads; and it will be one of the best signals that the state of Georgia is willing to spend our money to solve our problems. Four years ago, we decided that our state needed to develop its own reservoirs to be less dependent on federal water resources. Maybe it's time we apply that same logic to transportation.

We must maintain and improve our roads and bridges; we must provide congestion relief; and we must prepare for more freight and more businesses. We can debate how much it will cost to do something; but let us not forget how much it will cost to do nothing.

I do not believe that we Georgians will choose to do nothing. We know the problems; let's now resolve to agree on the solutions. That's the outlook we must embrace as we tackle all of the challenges we have discussed today. The sea is indeed vast, but our ten million oars row onward. Let us as the leaders of this state demonstrate that we can row together in sequence so that our boat will move steadily forward on a charted course of progress, with the shoreline of Promise and Prosperity on the horizon.

I pray for wisdom for all of us as we carry out the public's trust, so that we can give Georgians a state that's even better tomorrow than it is today. May God bless you and may God continue to bless the state of Georgia.

(4) 'Treatment of autism spectrum disorder' includes the following types of care prescribed, provided, or ordered for an individual diagnosed with an autism spectrum disorder:

This Code section also shall not be construed to limit benefits that are otherwise available to an individual under an accident and sickness contract, policy, or benefit plan.

(ii) Those costs solely would lead to an increase in average premiums charged of more than 1 percent for all insurance policies, subscription contracts, or health care plans commencing on inception or the next renewal date, based on the premium rating methodology and practices the insurer, corporation, or health maintenance organization, or such governmental entity, employs; and

(B) The Commissioner approves the certification of the actuary.

(2) An exemption allowed under paragraph (1) of this subsection shall apply for a one-year coverage period following inception or next renewal date of all insurance policies, subscription contracts, or health care plans issued or renewed during the one-year period following the date of the exemption, after which the insurer, corporation, or health maintenance organization, or such governmental entity, shall again provide coverage for behavioral health treatment required under this subsection.

(3) An insurer, corporation, or health maintenance organization, or such governmental entity, may claim an exemption for a subsequent year, but only if the conditions specified in this subsection again are met.

(4) Notwithstanding the exemption allowed under paragraph (1) of this subsection, an insurer, corporation, or health maintenance organization, or such governmental entity, may elect to continue to provide coverage for behavioral health treatment required under this subsection.

(f) Beginning January 1, 2016, to the extent that this Code section requires benefits that exceed the essential health benefits required under Section 1302(b) of the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, P. L. 111-148, the specific benefits that exceed the required essential health benefits shall not be required of a 'qualified health plan' as defined in such act when the qualified health plan is offered in this state through the exchange. Nothing in this subsection shall nullify the application of this Code section to plans offered outside the state's exchange.

(g) This Code section shall not apply to any accident and sickness contract, policy, or benefit plan offered by any employer with ten or fewer employees.

(h) Nothing in this Code section shall be construed to limit any coverage under any accident and sickness contract policy or benefit plan, including, but not limited to, speech therapy, occupational therapy, or physical therapy otherwise available under such plan.

(i) By January 15, 2017, and every January 15 thereafter, the department shall submit a report to the General Assembly regarding the implementation of the coverage required under this Code section. The report shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) The total number of insureds diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder;

(2) The total cost of all claims paid out in the immediately preceding calendar year for coverage required by this Code section;

(3) The cost of such coverage per insured per month; and

(4) The average cost per insured for coverage of applied behavior analysis.

All health carriers and health benefit plans subject to the provisions of this Code section shall provide the department with all data requested by the department for inclusion in the annual report."

The President announced the motion prevailed at 10:59 a.m.

The hour for convening the Joint Session of the Senate and House having arrived, the President, accompanied by the Secretary and Senators, proceeded to the Hall of the House of Representatives, and the Joint Session, called for the purpose of hearing a message by Honorable Hugh P. Thompson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, was called to order by the Speaker of the House. HR 11 authorizing the Joint Session of the Senate and House was read by the Clerk of the House.

Honorable Hugh P. Thompson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, addressed the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives as follows:

Lt. Governor Cagle, Speaker Ralston, President Pro Tem Shafer, Speaker Pro Tem Jones, members of the General Assembly, my fellow judges, ladies and gentlemen:

In a courtroom somewhere in Georgia this week, under the adoption laws of this state, a judge will declare a couple the legal parents of the young child they have brought into their family.

In another courtroom, a judge will inform the owner of a small business that she is throwing out the lawsuit which threatened to close the doors of that business forever.

In yet another Georgia courtroom, the parents of an adult son or daughter who was randomly shot and killed will get some closure when the judge announces that he is sentencing their child's killer to spend the rest of his life in prison.

Each day in Georgia, our judges dispense justice. Each day, they study and review the laws of our nation and the laws of our state and apply them impartially to the facts of the case before them. Each day, when they look at the people in their courtroom, they consider that their decisions will change individuals' lives forever.

Today I speak for Georgia's judges in pledging to you that the state of Georgia's judiciary is sound and strong.

It is strong because each day across this state, prosecutors, public defenders, sheriffs and sheriffs' deputies, clerks, probation officers, and more than 1400 Georgia judges go to work, committed to fulfilling the mission of our courts. That mission is to protect individual rights and liberties, to uphold and interpret the rules of law, and to provide a forum for the peaceful resolution of disputes that is fair, impartial, and accessible to all.

As your Chief Justice and head of the judicial branch of government, I am grateful for the opportunity to report to you our achievements of this past year, and the challenges that lie ahead. And I thank you for your ongoing support of the judiciary and the partnership we have forged in our common goal of serving the people of this great state.

Economy and the Courts

After years of a near-crippling recession that threatened the livelihoods of too many Georgians, our economy is improving and the judiciary is beginning to regain its footing.

After years of cutting costs, streamlining our organizations, and implementing furloughs, today we stand on firmer ground in maintaining the courts' ability to fulfill our constitutional duties.

As my predecessors and I have said before, our courts are a bargain for this state.

The entire judicial branch of Georgia operates on less than 1 percent of the total spent by all of our state government. Look at it another way: For every $100 spent by Georgia's government, only $.89 goes toward funding Georgia's judiciary. That's not even a full dollar. At the same time, our courts generate $93 million a year in revenue that is pumped back into the state's budget. What a value for Georgia taxpayers.

Despite our best efforts, however, challenges remain, notably for our probate courts. But with your help and support, we will meet those challenges.

Access to Justice

One such challenge is access to justice. Critical to the success of the judiciary is the public's trust and confidence. Too many hard-working Georgians believe that justice is out of their reach, either because it's too expensive or because of where they live. According to the National Center for Access to Justice, when it comes to access to attorneys, Georgia ranks in the bottom 10 states.

As I said last year, our judges continue to see a growing number of people coming to court with no lawyer and trying to represent themselves, particularly in divorce and other domestic relations cases. Superior Court Judge David Roper from the Augusta Judicial Circuit told me that in his court, 35 percent of litigants in domestic cases now represent themselves. When people are unrepresented in court, often their interests are not championed, judges don't have the information they need to make just decisions, and the courts are burdened in time and resources.

Last year I told you there are six rural counties in Georgia where there are no lawyers and another 20 where there are fewer than five.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said: "Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere." We need your help in guaranteeing justice everywhere in Georgia.

This year, under the leadership of Patrise Perkins-Hooker, President of the State Bar of Georgia, and under the sponsorship of Chairman Alex Atwood of Glynn County, legislation is being introduced to encourage private civil attorneys to work in severely underserved rural areas of Georgia. Under this legislation, a small number of law school graduates would receive annual assistance to help pay off their law school debts. In exchange, the attorneys would agree to work five years in those Georgia counties that desperately need legal help. This pilot project is just a small start, ladies and gentlemen. But it is a good start, and we ask for your backing.

Specialty Courts

Another challenge that we continue to address is the need for alternatives to prison for non-violent offenders. Thanks to Governor Deal, Lt. Governor Cagle, Speaker Ralston and so many of you here, Georgia remains at the forefront as a model for criminal justice reform. One of the crowning achievements is the growth in specialty courts, also known as accountability courts or problem-solving courts.

Georgia's drug, DUI, mental health, and other specialty courts save taxpayer dollars by avoiding the expense of incarceration. Most importantly, however, they help keep the public safe.

Last year, more than 5100 Georgians participated in the specialty courts, which now number 116 across the state. Georgia's specialty courts are yet another bargain for Georgia.

The success of these courts is told in the individual stories. Chief Judge Brenda Weaver of the Appalachian Judicial Circuit recently told me of a man she came to know who had been abusing drugs and alcohol since he was 13 years old. He had been in and out of prison for 22 years. But last April –at the age of 55 –this man graduated from Judge Weaver's drug court. After years of addiction and incarceration, today he has a fulltime job, pays taxes, and is a contributing member of his community.

I have heard similar stories from so many judges.

In Georgia today, we have seven Veterans Courts, with another six on the drawing board. Our veterans, who have sacrificed everything for our freedom and our system of justice, too often return from combat with brain injuries, post-traumatic stress disorder, mental health problems, and drug and alcohol dependencies –all of which can lead them into the criminal justice system.

Last month, I had the honor of attending Veterans Court in Cobb County, at the invitation of Superior Court Judge Reuben Green. Cobb County has more veterans than any other county in our state. Every Friday, Judge Green, who served as a United States Marine, presides over the court. Let me tell you what I saw:

I saw a team of professionals who met with Judge Green for an hour before court to discuss each veteran who would appear before the judge that morning. I saw those professionals' dedication to keeping these veterans out of jail, by helping them get the treatment they need, and by helping them find jobs and housing.

I then moved into Judge Green's courtroom where I saw him use the knowledge he had of each participant to praise them, to encourage them, or to sanction them if needed.

One of the beauties of Veterans Courts is that all the participants receive veterans' benefits, which means that much of their treatment is funded by federal tax dollars, instead of state or county funds.

Also unique is something else I saw first-hand. As each veteran approached the bench in Judge Green's courtroom, he or she was accompanied by a "mentor" –one of 25 veterans who have volunteered to be paired with a court participant and stand behind and alongside these men and women to give them every chance to succeed.

Judge Green calls these mentors the real heroes, and he is always looking for more volunteers. As Judge Green said, we owe these young men and women whom we sent off to war a second chance and the treatment they need for the issues caused by their service to our country.

Ladies and Gentlemen, I am proud to introduce to you Judge Reuben Green.

I am also proud to introduce to you some of the United States veterans –the heroes –who volunteer in Judge Green’s Veterans Court.

Growth and Future

Looking ahead to the future, our courts –like all of government –must be prepared for the growth in our population. For the first time, Georgia’s population has surpassed 10 million. We are now the eighth most populous state, just behind Ohio.

Like other states, Georgia is experiencing a growth in our elderly population. I believe this is one of the greatest challenges our courts face, particularly our probate courts, who lack the staff and resources they need to deal with more and more seniors who have no family to support them.

In Bibb County, Judge Sarah Harris of the probate court reports her belief that the increase in the number of homeless people who come before her is directly tied to our growing elderly population.

Senior Judge William Self of Macon worries about the significant increase he is seeing in the abuse, neglect, and exploitation of the elderly. In a letter to me, he wrote: “Our probate courts are going to be overwhelmed and ill-equipped, in both judicial and clerical resources.”

In another letter, the president of the Council of Probate Court Judges –Judge Chase Daughtrey of Cook County –said he wants members of the General Assembly to understand the often urgent and tragic human cases probate judges face daily. He wrote: “We watch the elderly man transition from independence to a ward of the state with no family or friends to care for him during his final days on this earth. With that, our hearts ache and cry for the greatest generation.”

Members of the General Assembly, going forward, our probate judges will need your help and your support.

At the Supreme Court of Georgia –the highest court in our state –the number of appeals filed to date is nearly 40 percent higher this year over last. Although we are rebuilding with your help, we continue to have fewer staff than we did more than a decade ago.

Please know that we appreciate your support in giving us the building facilities, personnel and resources we need to handle the people's problems and the people's business.

I said last year that our state-paid judges deserve a raise. I say it again this year.

We have not received a base pay raise for more than 15 years. For the sake of attracting and retaining the highest-qualified judges at all levels –both trial and appellate –we must be properly compensated based on a pay scale that makes sense.

As we prepare for the future, we share with the governor and all of you our pride in Georgia being named the best place to do business. To maintain that position, our courts must be ready and able to quickly resolve business disputes.

One of our great success stories is the Business Court created in Fulton County under the leadership of Judge John Goger, and which may soon be replicated in Gwinnett and Cobb counties. That court provides prompt resolution of complex commercial litigation by a panel of experienced judges. Going forward, we would like to see more of these courts in our state.

Georgia is now home to more than 3600 foreign businesses from more than 60 countries. In the last decade, foreign companies accounted for 20 percent of metropolitan Atlanta's new business activity. With the growing globalization of business, Georgia has become a nationally recognized leader in the international legal market through the adoption of rules that make this state more attractive to foreign lawyers.

I am also proud of Georgia's Alternative Dispute Resolution system. Its purpose is to help people resolve their disputes in less time and for less money by not having to go to court. Each year, 70 percent of the cases that go through the Alternative Dispute Resolution process are settled, and that results in nearly 25,000 fewer civil cases in our courts.

As the gateway to justice, our courtrooms are the epitome of democracy. But as our population grows, we are also growing more diverse. Our judges must reflect our population. The perception of justice is almost as important as justice itself.

Last month, our state reached two important milestones. On January 7th, Judge Dean Bucci of the Paulding Judicial Circuit was sworn in as the first Hispanic superior court judge. The following week, I had the honor of presiding over the ceremonial swearing in of Judge Meng Lim of the Tallapoosa Judicial Circuit.

It was indeed an historic occasion for our state, not only because Judge Lim is Georgia's first Asian American superior court judge, but also because of the extraordinary story of how he got here.

Judge Lim didn't grow up with a childhood like yours and mine. He was born in Cambodia, just before the takeover by the Khmer Rouge. He was taken from his mother when he was 4 years old, and placed in a camp with other young children. For four years, from sunup until sundown, he and the other children were marched to the rice fields where they worked all day pulling weeds. They had no toys, no medicine, no education, and no parents.

After the Vietnamese liberated Cambodia, the Lim family was reunited and relocated as refugees to rural Bremen, Georgia. They spoke little English, but Meng, who was 9 years old, learned the language quickly and became his parents' interpreter. The community embraced the Lim family. The Baptist Church of Bremen provided a house for them and hired his parents as custodians. His teachers took him after school and on weekends to Walmart to introduce him to things he had never seen and words he had never heard. People anonymously contributed money so he could go on trips with the other school children.

Meng Lim would go on to graduate as valedictorian of his class from Bremen High School and win scholarships to Emory University and the Mercer School of Law. He eventually worked in the law firm of the late great Speaker of this House, Thomas B. Murphy. But after 15 years practicing law, Meng Lim decided he could give back more to his community as a judge. From his early childhood in a country where there was no system of justice, he developed a passion for ensuring that all people who would enter his courtroom would be guaranteed justice.

So last year, Meng Lim ran for an open seat in the Tallapoosa Judicial Circuit, and once again the community he had come to love embraced him and elected him as their judge.

Ladies and Gentlemen, please join me in thanking Judge Lim and his parents, Se and Anh Lim.

Judge Lim and the other judges I have mentioned here today represent our state's future. They represent the many judges who embody the values Georgians hold dear –humility, integrity, hard work, courage, resiliency, love of country and love of community.

Georgians deserve judges of this high caliber. Georgians deserve a diverse judiciary made up of the best legal minds that instill confidence in our judicial system. And they deserve a justice system that ensures fair and prompt access to our courts for all Georgians.

Thank you to all our judges. Thank all of you in the General Assembly for your support of the judiciary. Thank you for having me here today. And may God bless you and the great state of Georgia.

House Majority Leader Larry O'Neal moved that the Joint Session be hereby dissolved.

The motion prevailed, and the Speaker of the House announced the Joint Session dissolved.

The Senate Committee on Health and Human Services offered the following substitute to SB 3:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Chapter 9 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to child custody proceedings, so as to provide for the creation, authorization, procedure, revocation, and termination of a power of attorney from a parent to another person for the temporary delegation of certain power and authority for the care of a minor child; to provide a short title; to provide for definitions; to provide for legislative findings; to provide for related matters; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

The General Assembly finds that:

- (1) From time to time, parents experience short-term difficulties that impair their ability to perform the regular and expected functions to provide care and support to their minor children;
- (2) Parents need a means to confer to another person the temporary authority to act on behalf of children without the time and expense of a court proceeding or the involvement of the Division of Family and Children Services of the Department of Human Services; and
- (3) Providing a statutory mechanism for granting such authority enhances family preservation and stability.

SECTION 2.

Chapter 9 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to child custody proceedings, is amended by adding a new article to read as follows:

"ARTICLE 5

This article shall be known and may be cited as the 'Supporting and Strengthening Families Act.'

19-9-141.

As used in this article, the term:

- (1) 'Child' means the minor child of a parent.
- (2) 'Legal custodian' shall have the same meaning as provided in paragraph (2) of Code Section 19-9-22.
- (3) 'Parent' shall have the same meaning as provided in paragraph (2) of subsection (a) of Code Section 19-3-37. Such term used in the singular shall mean both parents if both parents share joint legal custody of the child, unless otherwise clearly indicated.
- (4) 'School' means:
 - (A) Any county or independent school system as defined in Code Section 20-1-9;
 - (B) Any private school as such term is defined in subsection (b) of Code Section 20-2-690;
 - (C) A home study program meeting the requirements set forth in subsection (c) of Code Section 20-2-690;
 - (D) Pre-kindergarten programs; or
 - (E) Early care and education programs as such term is defined in paragraph (5) of Code Section 20-1A-2.

19-9-142.

(a) A parent or legal custodian of a child, by a properly executed power of attorney provided in Code Section 19-9-149, may delegate to any adult residing in this state caregiving authority regarding the child for a period not to exceed one year, except as provided in Code Section 19-9-148. The parent or legal custodian may delegate to the attorney-in-fact any power and authority regarding the care and custody of the child, except the power to consent to the marriage or adoption of the child, the performance or inducement of an abortion on or for the child, or the termination of parental rights to the child. Such power and authority may be delegated without the approval of a court by executing in writing a power of attorney for the care of a child in a form substantially complying with the provisions of this article. A delegation of power and authority under this Code section shall not operate to change or modify any parental or legal rights, obligations, or authority established by an existing court order or deprive the parent or legal custodian of any parental or legal rights, obligations, or authority regarding the custody, visitation, or support of the child.

(b) Except where limited by federal law, this Code section, or the wishes of the parent as expressed in the power of attorney, the attorney-in-fact shall have the same rights, duties, and responsibilities that would otherwise be exercised by the parent pursuant to the laws of this state.

(c) The attorney-in-fact under a power of attorney for the care of a child shall act in the best interest of the child. Such attorney-in-fact shall not be liable for consenting or refusing to consent to medical, dental, or mental health care for a child when such decision is made in good faith and is exercised in the best interest of the child.

(d)(1) The attorney-in-fact shall have the right to enroll the child in a public school serving the area where the attorney-in-fact resides and may enroll the child in a private school, pre-kindergarten program, or home study program.

(2) The public school shall allow such attorney-in-fact with a properly executed power of attorney for the care of a child to enroll the child.

(3) At the time of enrollment, the attorney-in-fact shall provide to the school such residency documentation as is customary in that school district.

(4) A public school shall not unreasonably deny enrollment of a child. If a public school denies enrollment of a child under this Code section, such denial may be appealed and shall be treated as any other denial of enrollment of a child in that school district, including all of the remedies otherwise available when enrollment is denied to a child.

In the event a child under this article has previously been in the care of the Division of Family and Children Services of the Department of Human Services, the division shall be notified of the power of attorney to delegate parental or legal custodian power and authority entered into under this article concerning such child.

19-9-142.2.

(a) In the event a child under this article has a parent who is not a legal custodian of such child, such parent shall be placed on written notice by the legal custodian 30 days prior to the execution of a power of attorney under this article and such notice shall be sent by certified mail.

(b) In addition to the notice provided in subsection (a) of this Code section, a legal custodian executing a power of attorney under this article shall comply with any applicable relocation notice requirements under subsection (f) of Code Section 19-9-3.

(c) In the event of an emergency, the written requirement provisions of this Code section may be waived, but in no event shall this provision be interpreted as a means to violate a court order pursuant to subsection (f) of Code Section 19-9-3.

Nothing in this article shall preclude a parent or attorney-in-fact from granting temporary written permission to seek emergency medical treatment or other services for a child while in the custody of an adult who is not the parent or attorney-in-fact and who is temporarily supervising the child at the request of the parent or attorney-in-fact.

19-9-144.

(a) Except as may be permitted by the federal No Child Left Behind Act, 20 U.S.C.A. Section 6301, et seq., and Section 7801, et seq., a parent executing the power of attorney for the care of a child shall certify that such action is not for the primary purpose of enrolling the child in a school for the sole purpose of participating in the academic or interscholastic athletic programs provided by that school or for any other unlawful purpose. Violation of this subsection shall be punishable in accordance with Georgia law and may require, in addition to any other remedies, repayment by such parent of all costs incurred by the school as a result of the violation.

(b) The power of attorney for the care of a child shall be signed and acknowledged before a notary public by the parent executing the power of attorney.

(a) The parent or legal custodian of the child shall have the authority to revoke or withdraw the power of attorney authorized by Code Section 19-9-142 at any time. Except as provided in Code Section 19-9-148, if the delegation of power and authority lasts longer than one year, the parent or legal custodian of the child shall execute a new power of attorney for each additional year that the delegation exists. If a parent withdraws or revokes the power of attorney, the child shall be returned to the custody of the parent as soon as reasonably possible.

(b) Unless the authority is revoked or withdrawn by the parent, the attorney-in-fact shall exercise parental or legal authority on a continuous basis without compensation for the duration of the power of attorney authorized by Code Section 19-9-142 and shall not be subject to any provision concerning the licensing or regulation of foster care homes.

The execution of a power of attorney by a parent or legal custodian, as authorized in Code Section 19-9-142, shall not constitute abandonment under Code Section 19-10-1 nor constitute abuse or neglect under Code Section 19-7-5 unless the parent or legal custodian fails to take custody of the child or execute a new power of attorney after the one-year time limit under Code Section 19-9-142 has elapsed.

(a) Under a delegation of power and authority as authorized by Code Section 19-9-142, the child subject to the power of attorney shall not be considered placed in foster care as defined in any other provision, and the parties to the power of attorney shall not be subject to any of the requirements or licensing regulations for foster care or other regulations relating to community care for children.

(b) Any attorney-in-fact who has been delegated power and authority under Code Section 19-9-142 by a parent or legal custodian shall not be subject to the requirements of any other child care facility or foster care licensing provisions, and such delegation shall not constitute an out-of-home child placement under this title.

A parent who is a member of the armed forces of the United States, including any reserve component thereof, or the commissioned corps of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration or the Public Health Service of the United States Department of Health and Human Services detailed by proper authority for duty with the armed forces of the United States, or who is required to enter or serve in the active military service of the United States under a call or order of the President of the United States or to serve on state active duty, may delegate the power and authority authorized by Code Section 19-9-142 for a period longer than one year if such parent is on active duty service. The term of delegation, however, may not exceed the term of active duty service plus 30 days.

(a) The statutory power of attorney contained in this Code section may be used for the temporary delegation of parental power and authority to an attorney-in-fact. This power of attorney is not intended to be exclusive. No provision of this article shall be construed to bar use by the parent of any other or different form of power of attorney for the care of a child that substantially complies with this article.

(b) A power of attorney shall be legally sufficient under this Code section if the wording of the form complies substantially with the provisions of this Code section, the form is properly completed, and the signatures of the parties are acknowledged.

(c) The power of attorney for the care of a child shall be in substantially the following form:

If for any reason any of the sums herein provided under any other provision of this Act are insufficient to make the required payments in full, then there shall be taken from other funds appropriated to the department, agency, or institution involved an amount sufficient to satisfy such deficiency in full, and the lease payment shall constitute a first charge on all such appropriations.

Section 55: Budgetary Control and Interpretation

The appropriations in this Act consist of the amount stated in the right-most column, for each line at the lowest level of detail for the fund source categories, "Total State Funds" and "Total Federal Funds," under a caption beginning with a program or special project number that has a 100 or a higher number after the decimal and a program or special project name. In each case, such appropriation is associated with the immediately preceding program or special project name, number, and statement of program or special project purpose. The program or special project purpose is stated immediately below the program or special project name. For authorizations for general obligation debt in Section 50, the indented, bold-faced paragraphs following each Bond number are the lowest level of detail and constitute appropriations in accordance with Article VII, Section IV, Paragraph III(a)(1) of the Georgia Constitution. The caption above the Bond number, the light-faced text immediately following the Bond number before the bold-faced text, and the light-faced after the bold-faced text are information only.

Similarly, text in a group of lines that has a number less than 100 after the decimal (01 through 99) is not part of a statement of purpose but constitutes information as to how the appropriation was derived. Amounts in the columns other than the right-most column are for informational purposes only. The summary and lowest level of detail for the fund source categories

"Total Agency Funds" and "Total Intra-State Governmental Transfers," are for informational purposes only. The blocks of text and numerals immediately following the section header and beginning with the phrases, "Section Total - Continuation" and "Section Totals - Final" are for informational purposes only. Sections 51, 52, 53 and 54 contain, constitute, or amend appropriations.

Section 56: Flex

Notwithstanding any other statement of purpose, the purpose of each appropriation of federal funds or other funds shall be the stated purpose or any other lawful purpose consistent with the fund source and the general law powers of the budget unit.

In the preceding sentence, "Federal Funds" means any federal funding source, whether specifically identified or not specifically identified; "Other Funds" means all other fund sources except State Funds or Federal Funds, including without limitation Intra-State Government Transfers. This paragraph shall not permit an agency to include within its flex the appropriations for an agency attached to it for administrative purposes.

For purposes of the appropriations for the "Medicaid: Low-Income Medicaid," "Medicaid: Aged, Blind, and Disabled," and "PeachCare" programs of the Department of Community Health, the appropriation of a particular State fund source for each program shall be the amount stated, and each such program shall also be authorized up to an additional amount of 10 percent (10%) of the amount stated. However, if the additional authority is used, the appropriation of the same State fund source for the other programs to that agency shall be reduced in the same amount, such that the stated total in program appropriations from that State fund source for the three programs shall not be exceeded. However, the additional amount shall be from a State fund source which is lawfully available for the program to which it is added."

Part II: Effective Date

This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.

This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Safe Harbor/Rachel's Law Act."

The General Assembly finds that sexually exploited children deserve the protection of child welfare services, including family support, crisis intervention, counseling, and emergency housing services. Honorable Steve Henson
State Senator
121-B State Capitol
Atlanta, Georgia 30334

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
Senate Bill 18 (LC 41 0284)

Dear Senator Henson:

This bill requires the Technical College System of Georgia to establish policies for granting academic credit to students for college level learning acquired prior to their enrollment. This prior learning could come from military service, work experience, service in the community, or from independent study.

The bill's total fiscal impact would be approximately $241,500 for fiscal year 2016. According to the Technical College System of Georgia (TCSG), this cost includes $115,000 for one additional staff person (salary and fringe) to manage the program; $101,500 for a Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) contract to determine how various military and occupational experiences apply to TCSG programs and to train staff; and $25,000 for the updates that would be required to TCSG's computer databases and website.

The $115,000 cost of the additional staff person would be an on-going cost. The PLA contract and computer update costs would be one-time costs. However, additional costs could be incurred if the program expands beyond the program areas covered by the initial PLA.

Additionally, it should be noted that the TCSG might lose some tuition revenue from students who are awarded academic credits through this program. However, TCSG believes the loss would be minor and could be offset by an increase in enrollment due to the availability of the program.

Sincerely,

/s/ Greg S. Griffin
State Auditor

Office of Planning and Budget

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Chapter 4 of Title 26 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to pharmacists and pharmacies, so as to provide for substitutions of interchangeable biological products; to define certain terms; to provide for requirements and limitations; to provide for related matters; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Chapter 4 of Title 26 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to pharmacists and pharmacies, is amended by revising Code Section 26-4-5, relating to definitions, by adding new paragraphs to read as follows:

"(1.1) 'Biological product' means a biological product as defined in subsection (i) of Section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 262."

"(18.2) 'Interchangeable biological product' means a biological product that the federal Food and Drug Administration has determined meets the standards set forth in subsection (k)(4) of 42 U.S.C. Section 262 or has been deemed therapeutically equivalent by the federal Food and Drug Administration."

SECTION 2.

Said chapter is further amended by revising Code Section 26-4-81, relating to substitution of generic drugs for brand name drugs, as follows:

"26-4-81.

(a) In accordance with this Code section, a pharmacist may substitute:

(1) A a drug with the same generic name in the same strength, quantity, dose, and dosage form as the prescribed brand name drug product which is, in the pharmacist's reasonable professional opinion, pharmaceutically equivalent; or

- (2) A biological product with an interchangeable biological product.
- (b) If a practitioner of the healing arts prescribes:
- (1) A a drug by its generic name, the pharmacist shall dispense the lowest retail priced drug product which is in stock and which is, in the pharmacist's reasonable professional opinion, pharmaceutically equivalent; or
- (2) A biological product by its nonproprietary name, the pharmacist shall dispense the lowest retail priced interchangeable biological product which is in stock.
- (c) Substitutions as provided for in subsections (a) and (b) of this Code section are authorized for the express purpose of making available to the consumer the lowest retail priced:
- (1) Drug ~~drug~~ product which is in stock and which is, in the pharmacist's reasonable professional opinion, both therapeutically equivalent and pharmaceutically equivalent; or
- (2) Interchangeable biological product which is in stock.
- (d)(1) Whenever a substitution is made, the pharmacist shall record on the original prescription the fact that there has been a substitution and the identity of the dispensed drug product or interchangeable biological product and its manufacturer. Such prescription shall be made available for inspection by the board or its representative in accordance with the rules of the board.
- (2) If a pharmacist substitutes a generic drug product for a brand name prescribed drug product when dispensing a prescribed medication, the brand name and the generic name of the drug product, with an explanation of 'generic for (insert name of brand name prescribed drug product)' or similar language to indicate substitution has occurred, must appear on the prescription label and be affixed to the container or an auxiliary label, unless the prescribing practitioner indicated that the name of the drug may not appear upon the prescription label; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to medication dispensed for in-patient hospital services or to medications in specialty packaging for dosing purposes as defined by the board.
- (3) If a pharmacist substitutes an interchangeable biological product for a prescribed biological product when dispensing a prescribed medication, the name of the interchangeable biological product, with an explanation of 'interchangeable biological product for (insert name of prescribed biological product)' or similar language to indicate substitution has occurred, must appear on the prescription label and be affixed to the container or an auxiliary label, unless the prescribing practitioner indicated that the name of the biological product may not appear upon the prescription label; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to biological products dispensed for in-patient hospital services or to biological products in specialty packaging for dosing purposes as defined by the board.
- (e) The substitution of any drug or biological product by a registered pharmacist pursuant to this Code section does not constitute the practice of medicine.
- (f) A patient for whom a prescription drug or biological product order is intended may instruct a pharmacist not to substitute a generic name drug in lieu of a brand name drug or an interchangeable biological product in lieu of a prescribed biological product.

(g) A practitioner of the healing arts may instruct the pharmacist not to substitute a generic name drug in lieu of a brand name drug or an interchangeable biological product in lieu of a prescribed biological product by including the words 'brand necessary' in the body of the prescription. When a prescription is a hard copy prescription drug or biological product order, such indication of brand necessary must be in the practitioner's own handwriting and shall not be printed, applied by rubber stamp, or any such similar means. When the prescription is an electronic prescription drug or biological product order, the words 'brand necessary' are not required to be in the practitioner's own handwriting and may be included on the prescription in any manner or by any method. When a practitioner has designated 'brand necessary' on an electronic prescription drug or biological product order, a generic drug or interchangeable biological product shall not be substituted without the practitioner's express consent, which shall be documented by the pharmacist on the prescription and by the practitioner in the patient's medical record.

(h) Within 48 hours, excluding weekends and holidays, following the dispensing of a biological product, the dispensing pharmacist or the pharmacist's designee shall communicate to the prescriber the specific product provided to the patient, including the name of the biological product and the manufacturer. The communication shall be conveyed by making an entry into an interoperable electronic medical records system or through electronic prescribing technology or a pharmacy record that is electronically accessible by the prescriber. Otherwise, the pharmacist shall communicate the biological product dispensed to the prescriber, using facsimile, telephone, electronic transmission, or other prevailing means, provided that communication shall not be required where:

(1) There is no federal Food and Drug Administration approved interchangeable biological product for the prescribed product; or

(2) A refill prescription is not changed from the product dispensed on the prior filling of the prescription.

(i) The State Board of Pharmacy shall maintain a link on its website to the current list of all biological products determined by the federal Food and Drug Administration to be interchangeable with a specific biological product."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Chapter 61 of Title 36 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to urban redevelopment for counties and municipal corporations, is amended by revising paragraphs (17) and (19) through (22) and adding two new paragraphs to Code Section 36-61-2, relating to definitions, as follows:

Surface transportation projects may be undertaken under this chapter in areas proximate to, but lying outside of, a designated urban redevelopment area, without regard to any requirement that the area be a slum or blighted area, but only within the territorial limits of the sponsoring local government, provided that:

(A) The majority of the applicable surface transportation project is located within one or more urban redevelopment areas;

(B) The elements of such surface transportation project lying outside of one or more urban redevelopment areas are a functional component of a redevelopment plan authorized under the provisions of Chapter 44 of this title or a comprehensive development plan adopted in accordance with the rules of the Department of Community Affairs under Chapter 8 of Title 50; and

Although the power of eminent domain may not be exercised for ~~such~~ the following purposes, such undertakings or activities may include:

(A) Acquisition, without regard to any requirement that the area be a slum or blighted area, of air rights in an area consisting of lands and highways, railway or subway tracks, bridge or tunnel entrances, or other similar facilities which have a blighting influence on the surrounding area and over which air rights sites are to be developed for the elimination of such blighting influences and for the provision of housing and related facilities and uses designed for, and limited primarily to, families and individuals of low or moderate income; and

(B) Construction of foundations and platforms necessary for the provision of air rights sites of housing and related facilities and uses designed for, and limited primarily to, families and individuals of low or moderate income or construction of foundations necessary for the provision of air rights sites for development of nonresidential facilities."

SECTION 2.

Said chapter is further amended by revising Code Section 36-61-4, relating to the encouragement of private enterprise in urban redevelopment, as follows:

"36-61-4.

(a) A municipality or county, to the greatest extent it determines to be feasible in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, shall afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the municipality or county as a whole, to the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the urban redevelopment area by private enterprise. A municipality or county shall give consideration to this objective in exercising its powers under this chapter, including: the formulation of a workable program; the approval of urban redevelopment plans consistent with the general plan for the municipality or county; the adoption and enforcement of ordinances as provided for in Code Section 36-61-11; the exercise of its zoning powers; the enforcement of other laws, codes, and regulations relating to the use of land and the use and occupancy of buildings and improvements; the disposition of any property acquired; and the provision of necessary public improvements.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this chapter or other provisions of law to the contrary, and in order to give effect to the encouragement of private enterprise contemplated in this Code section, the following shall apply to contracts and agreements for surface transportation projects entered into pursuant to this chapter:

(1) In addition to other methods of procurement authorized by law, the sponsoring local government, urban redevelopment agency, or other governing body shall be authorized to utilize the procedures of this chapter to provide for the planning, design, finance, construction, acquisition, leasing, operation, and maintenance of surface transportation projects. The provisions of this chapter shall be an alternative to such other methods to be exercised at the option of each sponsoring local government or public body;

(2) One or more public bodies may participate in the consideration and implementation of a surface transportation project at the discretion of the sponsoring local government. Where more than one public body agrees to participate in the consideration or implementation of a surface transportation project, the participants may designate one or more representatives of each such participating public body, as agreed to by the sponsoring local government or the urban redevelopment agency;

(3)(A) An urban redevelopment agency designated by the sponsoring local government may evaluate a project to determine the appropriate or desirable levels of public and private participation in planning, designing, financing, constructing, operating, maintaining, or facilitating, or any combination thereof, for the execution of such project. Such urban redevelopment agency may designate a public nonprofit, private corporation, body, or entity to perform this function and to otherwise perform the activities contemplated in this Code section.

(B) A sponsoring local government or an urban redevelopment agency shall be authorized to issue, individually or in sequenced stages, written requests for expressions of interest, qualifications, or proposals, or any combination thereof, or other similar methods of procurement or solicitation. Such requests shall indicate the scope of the project, the proposed public and private financial participation in the project, including, but not limited to, the rights, responsibilities, obligations, revenue sharing features, any lease, license, availability or other payment rights, and any other allocations of interests and federal and state income tax benefits in respect of real and personal property relating to a project. Such requests shall include the factors to be used in evaluating responses, the relative importance of any applicable evaluation factors, and other contractual terms and conditions expected, including any unique capabilities or qualifications that will be required of respondents, as determined in the sole discretion of the designated representative of the sponsoring local government. Public notice of such requests shall be made at least 30 days prior to the date set for the release of said request by posting a legal notice on the websites of the sponsoring local government and the public body implementing the project, in substantially the same manner utilized by such public bodies in order to solicit requests for proposals, with a copy of such notice provided simultaneously to each affected public body.

(C)(i) The public body implementing the project and the sponsoring local government, with the participation of any designated representatives of other participating public bodies as determined by the sponsoring local government, may engage in individual discussions and interviews with each respondent deemed fully qualified, responsible, and suitable on the basis of initial responses and with emphasis on professional competence and ability to meet the level of private financial participation as called for in such request. Repetitive interviews may be conducted. Any such interviews shall be deemed to be a part of the procurement process.

(ii)(I) At the conclusion of the final stage, on the basis of evaluation factors published in the request and all information developed in the selection process, the public body implementing the surface transportation project, in an open and public meeting subject to the provisions of Chapter 14 of Title 50, shall rank the proposals in accordance with the factors set forth in the request for proposal or invitation for bids.

(II) After ranking the proposals, the public body implementing the project shall begin negotiations with the first ranked private entity. If such public body and first ranked private entity do not reach a comprehensive agreement or interim agreement, such public body may conduct negotiations with the next ranked private entity. Such process shall continue until such public body either voluntarily abandons the process or executes a comprehensive agreement or interim agreement with a private entity. Negotiations conducted with one or more selected respondent pursuant to this Code section shall continue to be deemed an active procurement until the execution of the final, definitive agreement with the selected respondent or respondents.

(iii) The public body implementing the project shall select for approval the respondent offering the most satisfactory and advantageous contract terms for the project based upon a thorough assessment of any one or more of the following: experience and reputation with similar projects; engineering and design quality; value; projected savings during, before, or after construction; and the ability of the final project's characteristics to meet the goals of the sponsoring local government, consistent with applicable plans and programs. The fair market value of any property included as a part of the procurement may be based on the consideration of the above factors, but it shall not be less than the initial cost to obtain the property. Before making such selection, the designated representative shall consult in an open and public meeting subject to the provisions of Chapter 14 of Title 50 with the representatives of any participating local governing authority, participating local authority, participating state agency, department, or authority, and affected local government. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the terms and conditions for multiple awards are included in the request, the implementing public body may award contracts to more than one respondent. Should the implementing public body determine in writing that only one respondent is fully qualified, or that one respondent is clearly more highly qualified and suitable than the other respondents under consideration, a contract may be negotiated and awarded to that respondent.

(iv) Upon approval of the selection by the implementing public body, a contract or contracts not exceeding 50 years in duration may be entered into by the urban redevelopment agency or any one or more of the participating public bodies and the selected respondent or respondents. The private financial information provided by the respondents shall remain exempt from Code Section 50-18-72 during and after the conclusion of the related selection process.

(D) A dispute over the award of a contract under this chapter shall be resolved by the filing of a petition in the superior court of the county in which the sponsoring local government is located within 30 days of the awarding of such contract and shall be determined through the use of a special master appointed by the judge of the superior court of the county in which the sponsoring local government is located. The special master shall not be authorized to enjoin or otherwise delay or suspend the execution of the contract and any work to be performed under such contract. The decision of the special master with regard to such dispute shall be appealable for a de novo review to the superior court of the county in which the sponsoring local government is located within 30 days following the decision of the special master.

(E) Nothing in this chapter shall require the designated representatives, the sponsoring local government, the implementing public body, or any participating public body to continue negotiations or discussions arising out of any request or any other procurement initiated under the provisions of this Code section.

(F) Every public body shall be authorized to promulgate reasonable rules and regulations to assist in its evaluation of responses and to implement the purposes of this chapter; provided, however, that unsolicited proposals shall not be permitted;

(4) No public officer, employee, or member of any participating public body, with respect to contracts of such public body, or the General Assembly shall serve as an agent, lobbyist, or board member for any private entity directly or indirectly under a contract or negotiating a contract provided for by this chapter for three years after leaving his or her position as a public officer, employee, or member of the public body or the General Assembly; and

(5) Contracts entered into with a private enterprise in respect to the design, construction, operation, financing, or management of the public components of a surface transportation project shall not constitute the acquisition of property for a private use, nor shall such contracts be deemed a sale, lease, or other disposition of the related interests in property under any provisions of this chapter or other provision of applicable law, and such public components of a surface transportation project shall be deemed a public use for all purposes under applicable provisions of law, including, without limitation, Code Sections 36-61-9 and 36-61-10."

SECTION 3.

Said chapter is further amended by revising Code Section 36-61-6, relating to formulation of a workable program for urban redevelopment, as follows:

"36-61-6.

For the purposes of this chapter, a municipality or county may formulate a workable program for utilizing appropriate private and public resources including those specified in Code Section 36-61-11, to eliminate and prevent the development or spread of slums, to encourage needed urban rehabilitation, to provide for the redevelopment of slum areas, or to undertake such of the aforesaid activities or such other feasible municipal or county activities as may be suitably employed to achieve the objectives of such workable program. Such workable program may include, without limitation, provision for the prevention of the spread of slums into areas of the municipality or county which are free from slums, through diligent enforcement of housing, zoning, and occupancy controls and standards; the rehabilitation or conservation of slum areas or portions thereof by replanting, removing congestion, providing parks, playgrounds, and other public improvements, including without limitation surface transportation projects, encouraging voluntary rehabilitation, and compelling the repair and rehabilitation of deteriorated or deteriorating structures; and the clearance and redevelopment of slum areas or portions thereof."

SECTION 4.

Said chapter is further amended by revising paragraph (1) of subsection (b) of Code Section 36-61-10, relating to the disposal of property in a redevelopment area, as follows:

"(b)(1) A municipality or county may dispose of real property in an urban redevelopment area to private persons only under such reasonable competitive bidding procedures as it shall prescribe, ~~or~~ as are provided in this subsection or, solely with respect to and for the benefit of advancing surface transportation projects, as provided in Code Section 36-61-4. A municipality or county, by public notice by publication once each week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper having a general circulation in the community, prior to the execution of any contract to sell, lease, or otherwise transfer real property and prior to the delivery of any instrument of conveyance with respect thereto under this Code section, may invite proposals from and make available all pertinent information to private redevelopers or any persons interested in undertaking to redevelop or rehabilitate an urban redevelopment area or any part thereof. The notice shall identify the area or portion thereof and shall state that such further information as is available may be obtained at such office as shall be designated in the notice. The municipality or county shall consider all such redevelopment or rehabilitation proposals and the financial and legal ability of the persons making such proposals to carry them out and may negotiate with any persons for proposals for the purchase, lease, or other transfer of any real property acquired by the municipality or county in the urban redevelopment area. The municipality or county may accept such proposal as it deems to be in the public interest and in furtherance of the purposes of this chapter. The municipality or county may execute contracts in accordance with subsection (a) of this Code section and deliver deeds, leases, and other instruments and take all steps necessary to effectuate such contracts."

SECTION 5.

Said chapter is further amended by revising Code Section 36-61-12, relating to the issuance of bonds for urban redevelopment projects, as follows:

(a) A municipality or county shall have power to issue bonds, in its discretion, from time to time, to finance the undertaking of any urban redevelopment project under this chapter, including, without limiting the generality thereof, the payment of principal and interest upon any advances for surveys and plans for urban redevelopment projects and shall also have power to issue refunding bonds for the payment of retirement of such bonds previously issued by it. Such bonds shall be made payable, as to both principal and interest, solely from the income, proceeds, revenues, and funds of the municipality or county derived from or held in connection with its undertaking and carrying out of urban redevelopment projects under this chapter; provided, however, that payment of such bonds, both as to principal and interest, may be further secured by a pledge of any loan, grant, or contribution from the federal government or other source, in aid of any urban redevelopment projects of the municipality or county under this chapter, and by a mortgage of any such urban redevelopment projects or any part thereof, title to which is in the municipality ~~or~~, county, or redevelopment agency.

(b) Bonds issued under this Code section shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation or restriction and shall not be subject to the provisions of any other law or charter relating to the authorization, issuance, or sale of bonds. Bonds issued under this chapter are declared to be issued for an essential public and governmental purpose and, together with interest thereon and income therefrom, shall be exempted from all taxes.

(c) Bonds issued under this Code section shall be authorized by resolution or ordinance of the local governing body. They may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium), be secured in such manner, and have such other characteristics as may be provided by the resolution of the local governing body or by the trust indenture or mortgage issued pursuant thereto.

~~(d) Such bonds may be sold at not less than par at public sales held after notice published prior to such sales in a newspaper having a general circulation in the area of operation and in such other medium of publication as the municipality or county may determine or may be exchanged for other bonds on the basis of par. Such bonds may be sold to the federal government or to an institution insured by an agency of the federal government at private sale at not less than par and, in the event that less than all of the authorized principal amount of such bonds is sold to the federal government or to an institution insured by an agency of the federal government, the balance may be sold at private sale at not less than par at an interest cost to the municipality or county, such~~

~~cost not to exceed the interest cost to the municipality or county of the portion of the bonds sold to the federal government or to an institution insured by an agency of the federal government.~~ All revenue bonds, but not notes or other obligations, issued under this Code section shall be issued and validated under and in accordance with the procedure set forth in Article 3 of Chapter 82 of this title. The provisions of any resolution or ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds under this Code section shall be a contract with every holder of such bonds and enforceable by any bondholder by mandamus or other appropriate action or proceeding at law or in equity.

(e) If any of the public officials of the municipality or county whose signatures appear on any bonds or coupons issued under this chapter cease to be such officials before the delivery of the bonds, such signatures, nevertheless, shall be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if the officials had remained in office until the delivery. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued pursuant to this chapter shall be fully negotiable.

(f) In any suit, action, or proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of any bond issued under this chapter or the security therefor, any such bond reciting in substance that it has been issued by the municipality or county in connection with an urban redevelopment project, as defined in paragraph ~~(22)~~(24) of Code Section 36-61-2, shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for such purpose and such project shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located, and carried out in accordance with this chapter.

(g) Any urban redevelopment agency or housing authority which a municipality or county has elected to exercise powers under Code Section 36-61-17 may also issue bonds, as provided in this Code section, in the same manner as a municipality or county, except that such bonds shall be authorized and the terms and conditions thereof shall be prescribed by the commissioners of such urban redevelopment agency or housing authority in lieu of the local governing body."

SECTION 6.

Said chapter is further amended by revising subsection (b) of Code Section 36-61-14, related to property exempt from taxes and from levy and sale by virtue of an execution, as follows:

"(b) The property of a municipality, ~~or~~ county, or any other public body, acquired or held for the purpose of this chapter, is declared to be public property used for essential public and governmental purposes and such property shall be exempt from all taxes of the municipality, the county, the state, or any political subdivision thereof. Such tax exemption shall terminate when the municipality or county sells, leases, or otherwise disposes of property in an urban redevelopment area to a purchaser or lessee who or which is not a public body."

SECTION 7.

Said chapter is further amended by revising subsection (a) of Code Section 36-61-16, relating to cooperation by public bodies, as follows:

If at any time title to or possession of any urban redevelopment project is held by any public body or governmental agency, other than the municipality or county, which is authorized by law to engage in the undertaking, carrying out, or administration of urban redevelopment projects, including any agency or instrumentality of the United States of America, the provisions of the agreements referred to in this subsection shall inure to the benefit of and may be enforced by such public body or governmental agency. A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Chapter 7 of Title 12 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to the control of soil erosion and sedimentation, so as to provide for a buffer against coastal marshlands within which certain land-disturbing activities are prohibited; to provide for exceptions and variances; to provide for related matters; to provide for effective dates; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Chapter 7 of Title 12 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to the control of soil erosion and sedimentation, is amended in Code Section 12-7-3, relating to definitions, by redesignating paragraph (10.1) as paragraph (10.2) and by adding three new paragraphs to read as follows:

"(2.1) 'Coastal marshlands' shall have the same meaning as in Code Section 12-5-282."

"(10.1) 'Maintenance' means actions necessary or appropriate for retaining or restoring a currently serviceable improvement to the specified operable condition to achieve its maximum useful life. Maintenance includes emergency reconstruction of recently damaged parts of a currently serviceable structure so long as it occurs within a reasonable period of time after damage occurs. Maintenance does not include any modification that changes the character, scope, or size of the original design."

"(13.1) 'Serviceable' means usable in its current state or with minor maintenance but not so degraded as to essentially require reconstruction."

SECTION 2.

Said chapter is further amended in subsection (b) of Code Section 12-7-6, relating to best management practices and minimum requirements for erosion and sedimentation control, by deleting "and" at the end of division (b)(15)(D)(ii), by replacing the period with "; and" at the end of division (b)(16)(C)(ii), and by adding a new paragraph to read as follows:

"(17)(A) There is established a 25 foot buffer along coastal marshlands, as measured horizontally from the coastal marshland-upland interface, as determined in accordance with Part 4 of Article 4 of Chapter 5 of this title, the 'Coastal Marshlands Protection Act of 1970,' and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, except:

(i) Where the director determines to allow a variance that is at least as protective of natural resources and the environment;

(ii) Where otherwise allowed by the director pursuant to Code Section 12-2-8;

(iii) Where an alteration within the buffer area has been authorized pursuant to Code Section 12-5-286;

(iv) For maintenance of any currently serviceable structure, landscaping, or hardscaping, including bridges, roads, parking lots, golf courses, golf cart paths, retaining walls, bulkheads, and patios; provided, however, that if such maintenance requires any land-disturbing activity, adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented;

(v) Where a drainage structure or roadway drainage structure is constructed or maintained; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented;

(vi) On the landward side of any currently serviceable shoreline stabilization structure; and

(vii) For the maintenance of any manmade storm-water detention basin, golf course pond, or impoundment that is located entirely within the property of a single individual, partnership, or corporation; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented.

(B) No land-disturbing activity shall be conducted within any such buffer and a buffer shall remain in its current, undisturbed state of vegetation until all land-disturbing activities on the construction site are completed, except as otherwise provided by this paragraph. Once the final stabilization of the site is achieved, a buffer may be thinned or trimmed of vegetation so long as a protective vegetative cover remains to protect water quality and aquatic habitat; provided, however, that any person constructing a single-family residence, when such residence is constructed by or under contract with the owner for his or her own occupancy, may thin or trim vegetation in a buffer at any time so long as a protective vegetative cover remains to protect water quality and aquatic habitat.

(C) On or before December 31, 2015, the board shall promulgate rules and regulations that:

(i) Contain criteria for the grant or denial by the director of requests for variances pursuant to this paragraph; and

(ii) Provide for variances by rule, subject to specified conditions, for certain categories of activities within the buffer, including:

(I) Where an alteration within the buffer area has been authorized pursuant to a permit issued by the United States Army Corps of Engineers under Section 404 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, as amended, or Section 10 of the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented; and

(II) Where an alteration within the buffer will have minimal impact on the water quality or aquatic habitat of the adjacent marsh, including where the area within the buffer is not more than 500 square feet; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented.

(D) The board may adopt rules and regulations that provide for an expedited process for certain categories of activities within the buffer based on the size, scope, location, and character of the proposed activity within the buffer.

(E) The buffer requirements of this paragraph shall not apply to crossings for utility lines that cause a width of disturbance of not more than 50 feet within the buffer; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented.

(F) The buffer shall not apply to:

(i) Any land-disturbing activity conducted pursuant to and in compliance with a valid and effective land-disturbing permit issued subsequent to April 22, 2014, and prior to the effective date of this Act; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented; or

(ii) Any lot for which the preliminary plat has been approved prior to the effective date of this Act if roadways, bridges, or water and sewer lines have been extended to such lot prior to the effective date of this Act and if the requirement to maintain a 25 foot buffer would consume at least 18 percent of the high ground of the platted lot otherwise available for development; provided, however, that adequate erosion control measures are incorporated into the project plans and specifications and such measures are fully implemented."

SECTION 3.

Said chapter is further amended by revising division (b)(15)(A)(i) of Code Section 12-7-6, relating to best management practices and minimum requirements for erosion and sedimentation control, as follows:

"(i) As provided by ~~paragraph~~ paragraphs (16) and (17) of this subsection;"

The motion prevailed, and the President announced the Senate adjourned at 12:20 p.m.

Senate Chamber, Atlanta, Georgia
Wednesday, March 4, 2015
Twenty-sixth Legislative Day

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment at 10:00 a.m. today and was called to order by the President.

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
House Bill 292 (LC 34 4462)

Dear Chairman Powell:

The Georgia State University Fiscal Research Center provided the following narrative on the revenue impact of this bill:

This bill amends the tax code of Georgia to incorporate the 2014 changes to the federal income tax code. During 2014 several federal tax bills with consequences to state revenues were signed into law. These bills include the Achieving a Better Life Act, the Tax Increase Prevention Act (TIPA), the 2014 Tribal Welfare Exclusion Act, the Philippines Charitable Giving Assistance Act, the 2015 Appropriations Act, the Airlines Bankruptcy Payments Rollover Act, the Cooperative and Small Employer Charity Pension Flexibility Act, and the Highway and Transportation Act of 2014.

The federal legislation listed above makes a number of changes to the federal income tax code. LC 34 4462 adopts all of these changes except the following items all of which are provisions contained in TIPA (P.L. 113-295). First, TIPA extends bonus depreciation for 2014 and extends the increased $8,000 of depreciation on passenger autos. Second, TIPA increases the maximum allowable deduction for section 179 property to $500,000 and increases the phase-out threshold to $2,000,000 to apply to tax years beginning in CY2014. Third, TIPA also expands the definition of section 179 property to include qualified real property for tax years beginning in 2014. Fourth, TIPA contains several modifications to Section 199, the Domestic Production Activities deduction. Fifth, TIPA provides that “qualified restaurant property” that is not qualified leasehold improvement property is not considered qualified property for purposes of Code Sec. 168(k). Similarly, TIPA also provides that “qualified retail improvement property” that is not qualified leasehold improvement property is not considered qualified property for purposes of Code Sec. 168(k). Lastly, TIPA extends the 15-year general depreciation system recovery period and 39-year alternative depreciation system recovery in effect for qualified retail improvement property.

By not conforming to the Section 179 provision included in the TIPA, the maximum deduction for Georgia tax purposes for this deduction becomes $25,000 with a phase-out threshold of $200,000 in 2014. As an alternative, LC 34 4462 would provide that the maximum deduction for purposes of Georgia taxable income is equal to $250,000 for 2014 with a phase-out threshold of $800,000.

The revenue effect of adopting all federal provisions is shown in Table 1. In addition, the costs associated with each of the federal provisions not included in the state legislation are shown, as is the estimate for the special Section 179 provision for Georgia taxpayers. The value of the exclusions are subtracted from the cost of adopting all provisions and the value of the special Section 179 provision is added to the total to determine the combined net effect of the provisions included in LC 34 4462.

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
House Bill 292 (LC 34 4569S)

Dear Senator Hill:

The Georgia State University Fiscal Research Center provided the following narrative on the revenue impact of this bill:

This bill amends the tax code of Georgia to incorporate the 2014 changes to the federal income tax code. During 2014 several federal tax bills with consequences to state revenues were signed into law. These bills include the Achieving a Better Life Act, the Tax Increase Prevention Act (TIPA), the 2014 Tribal Welfare Exclusion Act, the Philippines Charitable Giving Assistance Act, the 2015 Appropriations Act, the Airlines Bankruptcy Payments Rollover Act, the Cooperative and Small Employer Charity Pension Flexibility Act, and the Highway and Transportation Act of 2014.

The federal legislation listed above makes a number of changes to the federal income tax code. LC 34 4569S adopts all of these changes except the following items all of which are provisions contained in TIPA (P.L. 113-295). First, TIPA extends bonus depreciation for 2014 and extends the increased $8,000 of depreciation on passenger autos. Second, TIPA also expands the definition of section 179 property to include qualified real property for tax years beginning in 2014. Third, TIPA contains several modifications to Section 199, the Domestic Production Activities deduction. Fourth, TIPA provides that “qualified restaurant property” that is not qualified leasehold improvement property is not considered qualified property for purposes of Code Sec. 168(k). Similarly, TIPA also provides that “qualified retail improvement property” that is not qualified leasehold improvement property is not considered qualified property for purposes of Code Sec. 168(k). Lastly, TIPA extends the 15-year general depreciation system recovery period and 39-year alternative depreciation system recovery in effect for qualified retail improvement property.

TIPA also increases the maximum allowable deduction for section 179 property to $500,000 and increases the phase-out threshold to $2,000,000 to apply to tax years beginning in CY2014. Unlike HB 292 LC 34 4462, the legislation for the substitute bill, LC 34 4569S, adopts the section 179 provision at the federal level. Therefore, the revenue estimate accompanying this fiscal note does not include a special modified level of the section 179 depreciation provision. If this language is adopted, the section 179 deduction for Georgia income tax purposes would equal the deduction allowed against federal taxable income. The revenue effect of adopting the federal provisions is shown in Table 1.

The revenue effect of adopting all federal provisions is shown in Table 1. In addition, the costs associated with each of the federal provisions not included in the state legislation are shown, as is the estimate for the special Section 179 provision for Georgia taxpayers. The value of the exclusions are subtracted from the cost of adopting all provisions and the value of the special Section 179 provision is added to the total to determine the combined net effect of the provisions included in LC 34 4462.

(c) An opportunity school that becomes an OSD charter school shall work with the State Charter Schools Commission to renew and continue an effective charter or, if ineffective as a charter school, shall return to the governance of the OSD. A BILL to be entitled an Act to amend Title 50 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to state government, so as to provide for the preservation of religious freedom; to provide for legislative findings; to provide for definitions; to provide for the granting of relief; to provide for a short title; to provide for an effective date; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

The Senate Committee on Judiciary offered the following substitute to SB 129:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Title 50 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to state government, so as to provide for the preservation of religious freedom; to provide for legislative findings and purposes; to provide for the granting of relief; to provide for definitions; to provide for a short title; to provide for an effective date; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Georgia Religious Freedom Restoration Act."

SECTION 2.

Title 50 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to state government, is amended by adding a new chapter to read as follows:

"CHAPTER 15A

50-15A-1.

(a) The General Assembly finds and determines that:

(1) The framers of the United States Constitution and the people of this state, recognizing free exercise of religion as an inalienable right, secured its protection in the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and in Paragraphs III and IV of Section I, Article I of the Constitution of this state, respectively;

(2) Laws neutral toward religion may burden religious exercise as surely as laws intended to interfere with religious exercise;

(3) Governments should not substantially burden religious exercise without compelling justification;

(4) In Employment Division v. Smith, 494 U.S. 872 (1990) the Supreme Court virtually eliminated the requirement that the government justify burden on religious exercise imposed by laws neutral toward religion;

(5) The compelling interest test as set forth in prior federal court rulings is a workable test for striking sensible balances between religious liberty and competing prior governmental interests;

(6) In City of Boerne v. Flores, 521 U.S. 507 (1997) the Supreme Court held that the compelling interest test provided for in the federal Religious Freedom Restoration Act must be adopted by a state through legislative act or court decision in order to apply to state or local government action; and

(7) Courts have consistently held that government has a fundamental, overriding interest in eradicating discrimination.

(b) The purpose of this chapter is to:

(1) Restore the compelling interest test as set forth in Sherbert v. Verner, 374 U.S. 398 (1963) and Wisconsin v. Yoder, 406 U.S. 205 (1972) and to guarantee its application in all cases where free exercise of religion is substantially burdened; and

(2) Provide a claim or defense to persons whose religious exercise is substantially burdened by government.

50-15A-2.

(a) Government shall not substantially burden a person's exercise of religion even if the burden results from a rule of general applicability, except as provided in subsection (b)

of this Code section.

(b) Government may substantially burden a person's exercise of religion only if it demonstrates that application of the burden to the person is:

(1) In furtherance of a compelling governmental interest; and

(2) The least restrictive means of achieving that compelling governmental interest.

(c) A person whose religious exercise has been burdened in violation of this chapter may assert that violation as a claim or defense in a judicial proceeding and obtain appropriate relief against government.

50-15A-3.

In any action or proceeding to enforce a provision of this chapter, the court or tribunal may allow the prevailing party, other than government, a reasonable attorney fee as part of costs.

50-15A-4.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to:

(1) Apply to penological rules, regulations, conditions, or policies established by a penal institution that are reasonably related to the safety and security of incarcerated persons, staff, visitors, supervised violators, or the public, or to the maintenance of good order and discipline in any penal institution or parole or probation program; or

(2) Create any rights by an employee against an employer if such employer is not government.

50-15A-5.

As used in this chapter, the term:

(1) 'Delinquent act' shall have the same meaning as provided for in Code Section 15-11-2.

(2) 'Demonstrates' means meets the burdens of going forward with the evidence and of persuasion.

(3) 'Exercise of religion' means any exercise of religion, whether or not compelled by, or central to, a system of religious belief, including but not limited to the practice or observance of religion under Paragraphs III and IV of Section I, Article I of the Constitution of this state or the Free Exercise Clause of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, or the use, building, or conversion of real property for the purpose of religious exercise.

(4) 'Government' means the state or any local subdivision of the state or public instrumentality or public corporate body created by or under authority of state law, including but not limited to the executive, legislative, and judicial branches and every department, agency, board, bureau, office, commission, authority, or similar body thereof; municipalities; counties; school districts; special taxing districts; conservation districts; authorities; any other state or local public instrumentality or corporation; or other person acting under color of law.

(5) 'Penal institution' means any jail, correctional institution, or similar facility for the detention of violators of state laws or local ordinances and any entity supervising such violators placed on parole, probation, or other conditional release and any facility for the restrictive custody of children and any entity supervising children who are not in restrictive custody but who are accused of or adjudicated for a delinquent act.

(6) 'Restrictive custody' shall have the same meaning as provided for in Code Section 15-11-2."

SECTION 3.

This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.

SECTION 4.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.

The purpose of this Act is to provide for the creation of one or more community improvement districts within Newton County and each municipality therein, and such districts shall be created for the provision of such of the following governmental services and facilities as may be provided for in the resolution activating each district created hereby, or any supplemental resolution amending such resolutions:

- (2) "Board" means the governing body created for the governance of each community improvement district herein authorized.
- (3) "Bonds" or "general obligation bonds" means any bonds of a district which are authorized to be issued under the Constitution and laws of Georgia, including refunding bonds but not including notes or other obligations of a district.
- (4) "Caucus of electors" means, for each district, the meeting of electors provided for in this Act at which the elected board members of the district are elected. A quorum at such caucus shall consist of those electors present, and a majority vote in favor of those present is necessary to elect board members. No proxy votes may be cast.
- (5) "Cost of the project" or "cost of any project" means and includes:
 - (A) All costs of acquisition (by purchase or otherwise), construction, assembly, installation, modification, renovation, or rehabilitation incurred in connection with any project or any part of any project;

(B) All costs of real property, fixtures, or personal property used in or in connection with or necessary for any project or for any facilities related thereto, including, but not limited to, the cost of all land, estates for years, easements, rights, improvements, water rights, connections for utility services, fees, franchises, permits, approvals, licenses, and certificates; the cost of securing any such franchises, permits, approvals, licenses, or certificates; and the cost of preparation of any application therefor and the cost of all fixtures, machinery, equipment (including all transportation equipment and rolling stock), furniture, and other property used in or in connection with or necessary for any project;

(C) All financing charges and loan fees and all interest on bonds, notes, or other obligations of a district which accrue or are paid prior to and during the period of construction of a project and during such additional period as the board may reasonably determine to be necessary to place such project in operation;

(J) Repayment of any loans made for the advance payment of any part of any of the foregoing costs, including interest thereon and any other expenses of such loans;

(K) Administrative expenses of the board and such other expenses as may be necessary or incidental to any project or the financing thereof or the placing of any project in operation; and

(L) The establishment of a fund or funds for the creation of a debt service reserve, a renewal and replacement reserve, or such other funds or reserves as the board may approve with respect to the financing and operation of any project and as may be authorized by any bond resolution, trust agreement, indenture of trust, or similar instrument or agreement pursuant to the provisions of which the issuance of any bonds, notes, or other obligations of the district may be authorized.

Any cost, obligation, or expense incurred for any of the foregoing purposes shall be a part of the cost of the project and may be paid or reimbursed as such out of proceeds of bonds, notes, or other obligations issued by the district.

(6) "District" means the geographical area designated as such by the resolution of the governing body or bodies consenting to the creation of the community improvement district or as thereafter modified by any subsequent resolution of the governing body or bodies within which the district is or is to be located, or a body corporate and politic being a community improvement district created and activated pursuant to this Act, as the context requires or permits.

An owner of multiple parcels has one vote, not one vote per parcel. Multiple owners of one parcel have one vote which shall be cast by one of their number who is designated in writing by such multiple owners as their elector.

(8) "Equity electors" means electors who cast votes equal to each $1,000.00 value of all owned real property within the given district which is then subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board. Value of real property shall be the assessed value.

(9) "Forestry" means the planting and growing of trees for sale in a program which includes reforestation of harvested trees, regular underbrush and undesirable growth clearing, fertilizing, pruning, thinning, cruising, and marking which indicate an active tree-farming operation; it does not include the casual growing of trees on land otherwise idle or held for investment, even though some harvesting of trees may occur thereon.

The conditions for such activation shall be:

(1) The adoption of a resolution consenting to the creation of each community improvement district by:

(A) The Board of Commissioners of Newton County if the district is located wholly within the unincorporated area of Newton County;

(B) The governing authority of the municipality if the district is located wholly within the incorporated area of a municipality; or

(C) The governing authorities of Newton County and any municipality in which the district is partially located if it is located partially within the unincorporated area of Newton County and partially within the incorporated area of any municipality; and

(2) Written consent to the creation of the community improvement district by:

(A) A majority of the owners of real property within the district which will be subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board of the district; and

(B) The owners of real property within the district which constitutes at least 75 percent by value of all real property within the district which will be subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board, and for this purpose value shall be determined by the most recent approved county ad valorem tax digest.

The written consents provided for above shall be submitted to the Newton County tax commissioner who shall certify whether subparagraphs (A) and (B) of this paragraph have been satisfied with respect to each such proposed district.

No district or board created under this Act shall transact any business or exercise any powers under this Act until the foregoing conditions are met. A copy of such resolutions shall be filed with the Secretary of State, who shall maintain a record of all districts activated under this Act, and a second copy shall be filed with the Department of Community Affairs.

SECTION 5.

Administration, appointment, and election of board members.

(a) Each district created pursuant to this Act shall be administered by a board composed of a minimum of seven members to be appointed and elected as provided in this section. One board member shall be appointed by the chairperson of the Board of Commissioners of Newton County and confirmed by a majority of the board of commissioners and shall serve in Post 7. One board member shall be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the governing authority of each municipality within which the district is now or hereafter partially or entirely located and shall serve in Post 6. Two board members shall be elected by the vote of equity electors and serve in Posts 4 and 5 and three board members shall be elected by the vote of electors and serve in Posts 1, 2, and 3. Each board member elected by the vote of the electors (Posts 1, 2, and 3) shall receive a majority of the votes of the total electors with respect to the post for which he or she is a candidate. The appointed board members shall serve at the pleasure of the governing authority which appointed them, respectively. The initial terms of office of the members representing Posts 1 and 4 shall be two years. The initial term of office of the members representing Posts 2, 3, and 5 shall be four years. Thereafter, all terms of office shall be for four years, except the appointed board members who serve at the pleasure of the governing body which appointed them, respectively.

(b) The initial board members to be elected as provided in subsection (a) of this section shall be elected in a caucus of electors which shall be held within 60 days after the adoption of the resolutions and obtaining the written consents herein provided at such time and place within the district as the Board of Commissioners of Newton County, or governing body of the municipality if the district lies wholly within the incorporated area thereof, shall designate after notice thereof shall have been given to such electors by publishing the same in the legal organ of Newton County as provided in this Act. Thereafter, there shall be conducted biennially, not later than 60 days following the last day for filing ad valorem real property tax returns in Newton County, a caucus of such electors at such time and place within the district as the board shall designate in such notice for the purpose of electing board members to those board member positions whose terms are expiring or are vacant. If a vacancy occurs in an elected position on the board, the board shall, within 60 days thereof, call a special election to fill the same to be held within 60 days of the call unless such vacancy occurs within 180 days of the next regularly scheduled election, in which case a special election may, but need not, be called. For any election held under this Act, notice thereof shall be given to such electors by publishing notice thereof in the legal organ of Newton County on four dates: at least 45 days, 31 days, 17 days, and ten days, respectively, prior to such election.

(c) Board members, including appointed board members, shall be electors within the district. If a board member ceases to be an elector, such board member's position shall be declared vacant as of the date of the event terminating such status.

(d) The board members shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. They shall elect one of their members as chairperson and another as vice chairperson and shall also elect a secretary and a treasurer or a secretary-treasurer, either of whom may but need not be a member of the board.

(e) If the boundaries of a district are subsequently changed after creation of the district to include land within a municipality which was not a party to the creation of the district, or if a municipality's boundaries are changed to include land within a then existing district, the governing authority of the municipality shall acquire the right to appoint a member to the board of the district upon entering into the cooperation agreement provided for in Section 9 of this Act. The new appointed board member in such case shall take office upon the vacation of the first elected board member's office to be vacated, by expiration of term, death, resignation, or recall, and that office shall thereafter be appointed by such governing authority.

(f) Chapter 2 of Title 21 of the O.C.G.A., the "Georgia Election Code," shall not apply to the election of district board members. Should a vacancy in office of a district board member occur, and the regular caucus of electors is more than six months in the future, a special election shall be called to fill such vacancy, unless filled by appointment as provided in this Act. The district board may adopt such bylaws not inconsistent herewith to provide for any matter concerning such elections.

SECTION 6.

Taxes, fees, and assessments.

(a) The board may levy taxes, fees, and assessments within the district only on real property used nonresidentially, specifically excluding all property exempt from ad valorem taxation under the Constitution or laws of the State of Georgia and all property used for residential, agricultural, or forestry purposes and specifically excluding tangible personal property and intangible property. Any tax, fee, or assessment so levied shall not exceed 2.5 percent of the aggregate assessed value of all such real property. The taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board upon the properties shall be equitably apportioned among the properties subject to such taxes, fees, and assessments according to the need for governmental services and facilities created by the degree of density of development of each such property. The millage shall be set by the board by public vote and shall be capped at 5 mills during the first six-year term of the district operations. The proceeds of taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board shall be used only for the purpose of providing governmental services and facilities which are specifically required by the degree of density of development within the district and not for the purpose of providing those governmental services and facilities provided to the county or municipality as a whole. Any tax, fee, or assessment so levied shall be collected by Newton County if the district lies wholly or partly within the unincorporated area of Newton County, and by the municipality within which it lies if it is wholly within a municipality, in the same manner as taxes, fees, and assessments are levied by Newton County or the municipality, respectively. Delinquent taxes shall bear the same interest and penalties as Newton County or such municipality's ad valorem taxes, respectively, and may be enforced and collected in the same manner. The proceeds of taxes, fees, and assessments so levied, less a fee to cover the costs of collection of 1 percent thereof, but not more than $5,000.00 in any one calendar year, shall be transmitted by Newton County or the municipality which collects same to the board and shall be expended by the board only for the purposes authorized hereby.

(b) The board shall levy the above-provided taxes between January 1 and June 1 of each calendar year and shall notify in writing the collecting governing bodies by June 15 of each year so they may include the levy on their regular ad valorem tax bills.

(c) If, but for this provision, a parcel of real property is removed from a district or otherwise would become nontaxable, it shall continue to bear its tax millage then extant upon such event, for bonded indebtedness of the district then outstanding, until such bonded indebtedness then outstanding is paid or refunded.

SECTION 7.

Boundaries of the districts.

(a) The boundaries of each district shall be designated as such by the Board of Commissioners of Newton County if wholly within the unincorporated area of Newton County and by such municipalities within which the district may be partially located if partially within the unincorporated area of Newton County and partially within one or more municipalities, or by the governing authority of a municipality if wholly within the incorporated area thereof, as set forth in the resolutions required in Section 4 of this Act or as may hereafter be added as provided in this Act.

(b) The boundaries of a district may be increased after the initial creation of a district pursuant to the following:

(1) Written consent of a majority of the owners of real property within the area sought to be annexed and which will be subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board of the district is first obtained;

(2) Written consent of owners of real property within the area sought to be annexed which constitutes at least 75 percent by value of the property which will be subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board and for this purpose value shall be determined by the most recent approved county ad valorem tax digest;

(3) The adoption of a resolution consenting to the annexation by the board of the district; and

(4) The adoption of a resolution consenting to the annexation by the governing authorities of Newton County, if any portion of the district is or is to be in the unincorporated area of Newton County, and such municipalities as may have area within the district before or after the annexation.

SECTION 8.

Debt.

Each district may incur debt without regard to the requirements of Article IX, Section V of the Constitution of Georgia or any other provision of law prohibiting or restricting the borrowing of money or the creation of debt by political subdivisions of the State of Georgia, which debt shall be backed by the full faith, credit, and taxing power of the district but shall not be an obligation of the State of Georgia or any other unit of government of the State of Georgia other than the district.

SECTION 9.

Cooperation with local governments.

The services and facilities provided for in this Act shall be provided for in a cooperation agreement executed jointly by the board and the governing body of Newton County and any municipalities within which the district is partially located. The provisions of this section shall in no way limit the authority of Newton County or any such municipality to provide services or facilities within the district; and Newton County or any such municipality shall retain full and complete authority and control over any of its facilities located within its respective areas of any district. Such control shall include, but not be limited to, the modification of, access to, and degree and type of services provided through or by facilities of the municipality or county. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit or preempt the application of any governmental laws, ordinances, resolutions, or regulations to the district or the services or facilities provided therein.

SECTION 10.

Powers.

(a) Each district and its board created pursuant to this Act shall have all of the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions hereof, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the power:

- (1) To bring and defend actions;
- (2) To adopt and amend a corporate seal;
- (3) To make and execute contracts, agreements, and other instruments necessary or convenient to exercise the powers of the board or to further the public purposes for which the district is created, including, but not limited to, contracts for construction of projects, agreements for loans to finance projects, and contracts with respect to the use of projects; which the board is authorized to receive, accept, and use;

(6) To borrow money to further or carry out its public purposes and to execute bonds, notes, other obligations, loan agreements, security agreements, assignments, and such other agreements or instruments as may be necessary or desirable, in the judgment of the board, to evidence and to provide security for such borrowing;

(7) To issue bonds, notes, or other obligations of the district and use the proceeds thereof for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of any project and otherwise to further or carry out the public purposes of the district and to pay all costs of the board incidental to, or necessary and appropriate to, furthering or carrying out such purposes;

(8) To make application directly or indirectly to any federal, state, county, or municipal government or agency or to any other source, whether public or private, for loans, grants, guarantees, or other financial assistance in furtherance of the district's public purposes and to accept and use the same upon such terms and conditions as are prescribed by such federal, state, county, or municipal government or agency or other source;

(9) To enter into agreements with the federal government or any agency thereof to use the facilities or services of the federal government or any agency thereof in order to further or carry out the public purposes of the district;

(10) To contract for any period, not exceeding 50 years, with the State of Georgia, state institutions, or any municipal corporation, county, or political subdivision of this state for the use by the district of any facilities or services of the state or any such state institution, municipal corporation, county, or political subdivision of this state, or for the use by any state institution or any municipal corporation, county, or political subdivision of this state of any facilities or services of the district, provided that such contracts shall deal with such activities and transactions as the district and any such political subdivision with which the district contracts are authorized by law to undertake;

(11) To receive and use the proceeds of any tax levied by any county or any municipal corporation to pay the costs of any project or for any other purpose for which the board may use its own funds pursuant hereto;

(12) To receive and administer gifts, grants, and devises of money and property of any kind and to administer trusts;

(13) To use any real property, personal property, or fixtures or any interest therein or to rent or lease such property to or from others or to make contracts with respect to the use thereof or to sell, lease, exchange, transfer, assign, pledge, or otherwise dispose of or grant options for any such property in any manner as it deems to be the best advantage of the district and the public purposes thereof;

(14) To appoint, select, and employ engineers, surveyors, architects, urban or city planners, fiscal agents, attorneys, and others and to fix their compensation and pay their expenses;

(15) To encourage and promote the improvement and development of the district and to make, contract for, or otherwise cause to be made long-range plans or proposals for the district in cooperation with Newton County and any municipal corporations in which the district is wholly or partially located;

(16) To adopt bylaws governing the conduct of business by the board, the election and duties of officers of the board, and other matters which the board determines to deal with in its bylaws;

(17) To exercise any power granted by the laws of this state to public or private corporations which is not in conflict with the public purposes of the district; and

(18) To do all things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers conferred hereby.

(b) The powers enumerated in each paragraph of subsection (a) of this section are cumulative of and in addition to those powers enumerated herein and elsewhere in this Act; and no such power shall limit or restrict any other power of the board.

SECTION 11.

Bonds - generally.

(a) Notes or other obligations issued by a district other than general obligation bonds shall be paid solely from the property pledged to pay such notes or other obligations. General obligation bonds issued by any district shall constitute a general obligation of the district to the repayment of which the full faith and credit and taxing power of the district shall be pledged.

(b) All bonds, notes, and other obligations of any district shall be authorized by resolution of its board, adopted by a majority vote of the board members at a regular or special meeting.

(c) Bonds, notes, or other obligations shall bear such date or dates, shall mature at such time or times but not more than 40 years from their respective dates, shall bear interest at such rate or rates which may be fixed or may fluctuate or otherwise change from time to time, shall be subject to redemption on such terms, and shall contain such other terms, provisions, covenants, assignments, and conditions as the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds, notes, or other obligations may permit or provide. The terms, provisions, covenants, assignments, and conditions contained in or provided or permitted by any resolution of the board authorizing the issuance of such bonds, notes, or other obligations shall bind the board members of the district then in office and their successors.

(d) The board shall have power from time to time and whenever it deems it expedient to refund any bonds by the issuance of new bonds, whether or not the bonds to be refunded have matured, and may issue bonds partly to refund bonds then outstanding and partly for any other purpose permitted hereunder. The refunding bonds may be exchanged for the bonds to be refunded, with such cash adjustments as may be agreed upon, or may be sold and the proceeds applied to the purchase or redemption of the bonds to be refunded.

(e) There shall be no limitation upon the interest rates or any maximum interest rate or rates on any bonds, notes, or other obligations of the district; and the usury laws of this state shall not apply to bonds, notes, or other obligations of these districts.

(f) Bonds issued by a district may be in such form, either coupon or fully registered, or both coupon and fully registered, and may be subject to such exchangeability and transferability provisions as the bond resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or any indenture or trust agreement may provide.

(g) Bonds shall bear a certificate of validation. The signature of the clerk of the Superior Court of Newton County may be made on the certificate of validation of such bonds by facsimile or by manual execution, stating the date on which such bonds were validated; and such entry shall be original evidence of the fact of judgment and shall be received as original evidence in any court in this state.

(h) In lieu of specifying the rate or rates of interest which such bonds are to bear, and the principal amount and maturities of such bonds, the notice to the district attorney or the Attorney General, the notice to the public of the time, place, and date of the validation hearing, and the petition and complaint for validation may state that the bonds when issued will bear interest which may be fixed or may fluctuate or otherwise change from time to time and that the principal amount will not exceed and the final maturity date will not be later than as specified in such notices and petition and complaint or may state that, in the event the bonds are to bear different rates of interest for different maturity dates, none of such rates will exceed the maximum rate, which may be fixed or may fluctuate or otherwise change from time to time, so specified; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting or restricting the right of a board to sell such bonds at a discount, even if in doing so the effective interest cost resulting therefrom would exceed the maximum per annum interest rate specified in such notices and in the petition and complaint.

(i) The terms "cost of the project" and "cost of any project" shall have the meaning prescribed in this Act whenever those terms are referred to in bond resolutions of a board, in bonds, notes, or other obligations of the district, or in notices or proceedings to validate such bonds, notes, or other obligations of a district.

SECTION 12.

Authorized contents of agreements and instruments of the board generally; use of proceeds of sale of bonds, notes, etc.;
subsequent issues of bonds, notes, etc.

(a) Subject to the limitations and procedures provided by this section and by Section 11 of this Act, the agreements or instruments executed by a board may contain such provisions not inconsistent with law as shall be determined by such board.

(b) The proceeds derived from the sale of all bonds, notes, and other obligations issued by a district shall be held and used for the ultimate purpose of paying, directly or indirectly as permitted in this Act, all or part of the cost of any project, or for the purpose of refunding any bonds, notes, or other obligations issued in accordance hereunder.

(c) Issuance by a board of one or more series of bonds, notes, or other obligations for one or more purposes shall not preclude it from issuing other bonds, notes, or other obligations in connection with the same project or with any other project; but the proceeding wherein any subsequent bonds, notes, or other obligations are issued shall recognize and protect any prior loan agreement, security agreement, or other agreement or instrument made for any prior issue of bonds, notes, or other obligations, unless in the resolution authorizing such prior issue the right is expressly reserved to the board to issue subsequent bonds, notes, or other obligations on a parity with such prior issue.

SECTION 13.

Dissolution.

(a) A district activated under the provisions of this Act may be dissolved upon the occurrence of the written consent to the dissolution of the community improvement district by:

(1) A majority of the owners of real property within the district subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board of the district; or

(2) The owners of real property constituting at least 75 percent by value of all real property within the district subject to taxes, fees, and assessments levied by the board. For this purpose, value shall be determined by the most recent approved county ad valorem tax digest.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Mullis of the 53rd, Chairman
Senate Rules Committee

The following legislation was read the third time and put upon its passage:

- SR 80. By Senators Ligon, Jr. of the 3rd, Millar of the 40th, Hill of the 32nd, Jeffares of the 17th, Watson of the 1st and others:

A RESOLUTION demanding revision by the College Board of Advanced Placement U.S. History; and for other purposes.

The Senate Committee on Education and Youth offered the following substitute to SR 80:

A RESOLUTION

Demanding revision by the College Board of Advanced Placement U.S. History; and for other purposes.

WHEREAS, approximately 14,000 Georgia students take the College Board's Advanced Placement U. S. History (APUSH) course each year; and

WHEREAS, the APUSH course has traditionally been designed to present a balanced view of American history and to prepare students for college-level history courses; and

WHEREAS, the College Board has recently replaced its brief topic outline with a new, lengthy framework for the APUSH course; and

WHEREAS, the new APUSH framework reflects a radically revisionist view of American history that emphasizes negative aspects of our nation's history while omitting or minimizing positive aspects; and

WHEREAS, the framework minimizes discussion of America's Founding Fathers, the principles of the Declaration of Independence, the religious influences on our nation's history, and many other critical topics that have long been part of the APUSH course; and

WHEREAS, the framework presents a biased and inaccurate view of many important themes and events in American history, including the motivations and actions of seventeenth to nineteenth century settlers, the nature of the American free enterprise system, the course and resolution of the Great Depression, and the development of and victory in the Cold War; and

WHEREAS, the framework differs radically from the Georgia Performance Standards for Social Studies; and

WHEREAS, despite offering revisions and clarifications to the framework, the College Board has made no substantial changes to the themes and key concepts of the framework, thus requiring all content to be taught in alignment with those themes and concepts; and

WHEREAS, the framework describes its detailed requirements as required knowledge for Georgia students; and

WHEREAS, to prepare their students for the APUSH examination, Georgia APUSH teachers will have to teach the APUSH required knowledge through the lens of the APUSH themes and concepts, to the detriment of the state mandated Georgia Performance Standards; and

WHEREAS, the framework will thus have the effect of usurping the state mandated Georgia Performance Standards.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GEORGIA GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

- (1) That the State Board of Education instruct the College Board to return to an approach more compatible with the traditional topic outline, which respects and allows flexibility to incorporate the Georgia Performance Standards for Social Studies in classroom teaching and specifically incorporates the Georgia Performance Standards' emphasis on America's founding principles and the uniqueness of America's role in the world;
- (2) That the State Board of Education instruct the College Board to return to an APUSH examination that aligns with the approach described in paragraph (1) of this resolution;
- (3) That the Georgia congressional delegation is urged to push for greater market competition in funding for the College Board;
- (4) That the Governor is directed to contact other governors of several or all states to join Georgia in efforts to further market competition in advanced subject based testing for college credit; and

(5) That the State Board of Education and the Georgia Department of Education are directed to explore alternatives to the College Board's Advanced Placement program that would allow Georgia students to obtain college credit by mastering the content dictated by Georgia standards, including the possible redirection of state funds for professional development activities, textbooks, or other instructional materials, and that the Governor would seek reciprocity among several or all states and urge them to do likewise.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate is authorized and directed to make appropriate copies of this resolution available for distribution to the College Board, the State Board of Education, the Georgia Department of Education, Governor Nathan Deal, and each member of the Georgia congressional delegation.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AND ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

ARTICLE I

That the State of Georgia is the owner of the hereinafter described real property lying and being in Land Lots 259, 260, 287, and 288, 1st Land District, City of Milledgeville, Baldwin County, Georgia, and that the property is in the custody of the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities and the Department of Corrections, which on May 2, 2013, declared Bostick State Prison surplus to its needs. On June 27, 2013, the State Properties Commission approved the 2013 Resolution Act 313 (H.R. 205) authorizing conveyance of the property and sale by competitive bid. The bid was opened on August 6, 2013, and the State Properties Commission approved the bid from CorrectHealth GDC, LLC, on October 10, 2013. The Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities and the Department of Corrections do not object to the granting of this easement, hereinafter referred to as the easement area, and that, in all matters relating to the easement area, the State of Georgia is acting by and through its State Properties Commission.

SECTION 2.

That the State of Georgia, acting by and through its State Properties Commission, may grant to CorrectHealth GDC, LLC, or its successors and assigns, a nonexclusive easement area for ingress and egress. SECTION 5.

That, after CorrectHealth GDC, LLC, has put into use the easement area this easement is granted for, a subsequent abandonment of the use thereof shall cause a reversion to the State of Georgia, or its successors and assigns, of all the rights, title, privileges, powers, and easement granted herein. Upon abandonment, CorrectHealth GDC, LLC, or its successors and assigns, shall have the option of removing any facilities from the easement area or leaving the same in place, in which event the easement area and any facilities shall become the property of the State of Georgia, or its successors and assigns.

Upon written request from the grantee or any third party, the State Properties Commission, in its sole discretion, may grant a substantially equivalent nonexclusive easement within the property for the relocation of the facilities without cost, expense, or reimbursement from the State of Georgia.

SECTION 8.

That the easement granted to CorrectHealth GDC, LLC, shall contain such other reasonable terms, conditions, and covenants as the State Properties Commission shall deem to be in the best interest of the State of Georgia and that the State Properties Commission is authorized to use a more accurate description of the easement area, so long as the description utilized by the State Properties Commission describes the same easement area herein granted.

SECTION 9.
